Beauty Show At Westmoor

Oceana High School will host bands from throughout the Bay Area Saturday at the California Music Educators Association Bay Section Instrumental Festival.

Alan Harvey, Oceana High School band director and site chairman for TJE festival, said 27 bands and orchestras will participate.

The festival begins at 8:30 a.m., and audiences will be permitted in the performance rooms, though the sight reading activities will be performed before judges with no audience present.

The Peninsula Chapter of the C.M.E.A. has retained judges for the event from area colleges and universities.

Outstanding bands and orchestras participating in the festival will be selected to give "command performances" at another festival scheduled at Santa Barbara later this year.

Bands from high schools and junior high schools in Pacifica, San Francisco, San Mateo, Burlingame, Belmont, San Bruno, Millbrae, Redwood City, Atherton and Woodside will perform at the festival.

One Will Become 'Miss Daly City'

Only five of the girls will be selected by the panel of judges to go on to the finals scheduled for May 4 at the Elks Club ballroom in South San Francisco.

Miss Vivien Rieger, chosen to reign over Daly City for the past year, will be on hand at the finals to turn over her badge of office to one of the contestants in tonight's preliminary affairs.

Miss Rieger went on to win the Miss Fiesta Deam Girl Contest during last summer's San Mateo County Fair.

Members of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event, expressed hope this year's winner would likewise walk off with the Fiesta title.

The affair promises to be one of the Chamber's annual high-points.

Under the chairmanship of P. Evert Terminello, a five-member committee composed of Mona Baker, Ramona Burke, Don Monson, Ray Forcina and Fred Martin, have steered the pageant towards a successful conclusion.

Emcee for the preliminaries will be Fred Martin, while well-known radio personality Jack Carney was expected to handle the introductions during the finals.

Beauty (face and figure) will account for 80 per cent of the points, while poise and personality account for 20 per cent.

Last Friday, the girls were

Student Awards Slated

D.C. Chamber Dinner Event

The Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce will honor eight outstanding students from the combined student bodies of Westmoor and Jefferson High schools at a dinner on April 20.

The occasion is the eighth annual "Awards to Outstanding Students" night and chamber members consider it the most important event of the year.

"Although only a few students are honored on this night, they represent a cross-section of many other good students, having achieved their high scholastic standards through hard work and perseverance," Elio A. Fontana, chairman of the awards committee, said.

Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett will be the guest speaker at the awards dinner to be held at Westlake Joe's Restaurant in Daly City starting at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Other honored guests include students and parents (of the two schools involved) and San Mateo County Superintendent of Schools, Dr. J. Russell Kent and his wife.

The committee which selected the outstanding students consiste of Fontana, Superier Court Judge Frank Blum, Northern Judicial District Judges Paul

A Rest Home Or Hospital?

When is a hospital not a hospital was a question which plagued Daly City councilmen during an hours-long study session Monday night.

Last month, the Westlake Convalescent Hospital applied for a use permit to construct a $600,000 "hospital" on the east side of Escuela Circle near Southgate Avenue in Daly City.

According to City Palnner Edward Lawson the proposed construction area is zoned R-3 and a hospital is restricted to areas zoned R-4.

Was the facility designed as a "true" hospital where operations were to be conducted, or was it to be simply a "rest home" operation, Planner Lawson was asked.

"It was apllied for as a 'hospital,' however, I think it is to be operated as a convalescent or rest home," Lawson replied.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett said there had been some "talk going around" that if the complex designed by Irving Caster of Menlo Park, was a "rest home," school buses shuttling to the new Savage School, adjacent to the site, would undoubtedly disturb the occupants.

"I have also heard complaints regarding the construction of other than apartments in that area," Mayor Lycett said. "The shopping center was put there because its owners felt a sufficient number of people would live around it and shop at the stores."

And would the convalescent hospital — if it were a hospital — compete with nearby Mary's Help Hospital, Councilman Frank Pacelli asked.

In a letter last month to the

Monkey In Pacifica Loses Home

The occupant of a small monkey house in Pacifica "saved his skin" when the house caught fire Monday, and looked on calmly from a tree as firemen cleaned up the charred remains of his domicile.

A fire department spokesman said the monkey, which belongs to Stanley Medders, 608 Carmel, apparently "kept a cool head" when his 4-by-6-foot cage caught fire about 9 p.m., and escaped from the monkey house as soon as a hole burned through the wall.

The cage is located in the backyard of Medders' residence, and the fire apparently started when a light bulb kept in the cage for heat ignited some straw.

The monkey was reportedly doing well, but had not descended from the tree this morning.

Youngster Is Burned At Pacifica

A 10-year-old Pacifica child received second- and third-degree burns Monday afternoon when a can of gasoline caught fire as he refueled a motor scooter.

David Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan, 320 Mina Lane, is listed in satisfactory condition at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco, where he is undergoing treatment for burns on both legs.

A fire department spokesman said the boy was refueling the small motor scooter in the garage o fhis home when fumes from the gasline were apparently ignited by a water heater pilot light.

The interior of the garage was slightly damaged, but firemen said the blaze was quickly extinguished.

Taxicab Controls Altered

S.S.F. Deals With Fares

By DON GRIERSON

South San Francisco councilmen amended the city's ordinance regulating taxicab fares Monday, and repealed a section of the ordinance which prohibited women from driving taxis at night.

The amendment provides little change in taxi rates, with only the first one-fifth mile minimum rate altered. The one-fifth mile rate was changed from 40 cents to 50 cents, but the one-mile rate remains the same at 90 cents.

The section of the ordinance regulating hours of women drivers was adopted in 1946, councilmen said, and is no longer compatible with employment practices.

Yellow Cab Company of South San Francisco, the city's only taxi company, approved and recommended the ordinance revisions.

In other business Monday, the council discussed a petition from 23 residents requesting consideration of seeking a senior citizen housing facility for the city, and declared its intention of "looking into possibilities of acquiring senior citizen housing."

A number of claims for work on the Stonegate Ridge Assessment District, the city marina and Cabot, Cabot and Forbes ndustrial Park were approved at the meeting.

Bruno Planners Name Tippett

San Bruno planners appointed Frank Tippett to a one-year term as chairman of the planning commission Monday night, and Lyman McDuffin was named vice chairman.

Tippett replaces outgoing chairman Pete Weinberger as head of the commission.

Jefferson Ethics Probe 'Official' Silence Broken

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The veil of "official" silence surrounding a recent ethics probe report into activities of the Jefferson Elementary School District was broken by trustee Thomas J. Noonan Sunday.

In an article appearing in a Daly City newspaper, Noonan called the months-long probe a "phoney ethics study" and later branded the California Teachers Association (CTA) panel "a kangaroo court that heaped abuse on . . . the district administration."

For several months the CTA, backed by local teachers and other interested citizens, has asked the board to comment on the ethics probe, but each time the matter is brought before the trustees it has been tabled.

Noonan said the ethics probe was part of a state-wide effort by teachers to take over district school boards, and was politically initiated by teachers "and designed to destroy the confidence of the parents in the school board and in the administration."

Trustee Peter Galiano, who has been charged with "conflict of interest" by his fellow trustees because of past affiliations with the CTA immediate disassociated himself from Noonan's statements.

Noonan's charges of "teacher takeovers" came less than 48 hours before county-wide school board elections, where scheduled to get under way.

The two-pronged attack by Noonan singled out two candidates running in the election — Mrs. Dorothy Adams and Dr. Don Gibbons.

Noonan charged a small core of local teachers had collected funds on school property in behalf of the two candidates and an "open letter" endorsed by three of the teachers asked both parents and teachers to support them.

None of the three teachers — Mary Marilyn Harris, Denis O'Leary or Charles White — reside in the community, Noonan said.

White, chairman of the Daly City Teachers for Ethics in Education, said no teachers participated in the selection of any of the nine candidates running in Tuesday's elections.

"After these candidates were selected, some 130 district teachers did organize outside of the teacher association to support the 'citizens' group slate," White said.

"Contrary to the impression Noonan has sought to make, Jefferson Elementary teachers did not choose the candidates," White said.

Another blast at Noonan's charges came from Guy Eman-

Industrial Accident Victim Dies

John Charles Bennett, a South San Francisco man injured April 7 in an industrial accident, died early Tuesday at Peninsula Hospital.

An employe at the Sun Chemical Plant on South Linden Avenue in South San Francisco, Bennett was injured when his clothing became entrapped in an electric pipe-threading machine, authorities said.

Kenneth Williams, manager of the plant, discovered Bennet was trapped in the machine and shut off power, but he had received severe back and head injuries, authorities said.

Bennett, 53, resided at 335 Lux Avenue. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bertha Bennett.

Parking Ban Near Cafe?

Daly City Mgr. Edward Frank Monday asked the city council to approve a request banning parking along Poncetta Drive between the intersection with Alemany Boulevard and a point 60 feet south.

This action would prohibit parking in front of Lyons Restaurant, the council was told.

Open House At Jeff Elementary

Jefferson Elementary School District pupils and faculty will join other Californians in the observance of Public Schools Week, April 24-28.

District Supt. Frank Greenwood said open houses, lesson demonstrations and displays will be offered in all district schools.

The purpose of public schools week, he explained, is "to focus public attention on the importance of the public schools in providing excellence in education to help prepare youth for the responsibilities and challenges which confront them in a rapidly changing complex world."

He also cited the ambition of the district to acquaint parents and others in the community with the programs, needs and achievements of the schools, as well as to "reaffirm the vital role of public schools in helping to prepare young people for adaptation to change, expanded horizons, better citizenship and the handling of increase responsibilities toward the local community, the state, nation and the world as we move swiftly toward the 21st century."

Abraham Lincoln and Benjamin Franklin open houses were held earlier this week.

council, planning commission secretary McRobert L. Stewart recommended approval of the permit with certain stipulations: that subdivision improvements in the area be completed prior to opening of the "rest home"; that the site be landscaped and maintained in good condition, and that street trees (olive) be planted on both sides of the street.

The commission felt "the construction of a convalescent hospital will not, unnder the circum stances of this particular case, be detrimental to the general welfare of the city or injurious to property and improvements in the neighborhood."

In a move similar to that of two weeks ago, the city council decided to table the matter for further study by both staff and council members.

S.S.F. Woman Is Injured

A 73-year-old South San Francisco woman was injured Thursday morning when she fell from her bicycle on Alta Vista Drive.

Mrs. Betty Elizabeth Bremer, 312 Atlas Vista, was in satisfactory condition at Peninsula Hospital where she had been taken for treatment of a head injury received in the accident about 11 a.m. South S.F. police said Mrs. Bremer, who regularly rides the bicycle about the neighborhood, reported she lost control after the bike's brakes failed on a grade.

'Invitation' Entrancing, Critic Says

Guest drama critic is a director, actor, producer and author with the Harbor Players at Half Moon Bay. He reviews "Invitation to a March," going into its third weekend run at Pacifica, Friday and Saturday. Harris has worked in theater in England as well as in the United States. — Editor.

By ROBERT HARRIS

Apparently a light comedy, "Invitation to a March," currently being presented by the Spindrift Playhouse, soon develops into a fascinating study of people's reactions to life and their environmental upbringing.

The play is skillfully presented to the audience, with the many "asides" aiding greatly, and the actors and actresses have obviously listened and learned from their director, Nathaniel Marks.

Inevitably, weak spots are in evidence with such a new cast, the most notable being a lack of projection and stage presence by the male characters of the play. The exception to this is Richard Paolini, who is good.

The opposite sex consisting of the stage mothers, Janet Watson, Mimi Haggerty and Estelle Novelloe are all good, whilst playing very different roles. Sharon Hollander's interpretation of the daughter, however, does need more work.

There are scenes where a more dynamic approach would help the play, such as during the last act when everyone is telling his side of the story.

Both the set and the lighting are good; but somebody fix that door!

Should the young girl, Norma, march with everyone else? Should she marry the stuffy young lawyer? Or should she cut loose from her conventional family life of a widowed Army general's routine and wed the beach boy who built two houses?

The society implications underly all the action. There are charming romantic scenes, sparked with humor that reaches inside.

This is not a belly-laugh ha-ha comedy, but an entrancing evening of entertainment, certainly a winner, despite some slight faults.

Golf Course Collapse Fatal

A South San Francisco man, Charles William Evanson, 56, collapsed and died on Saturday at the Crystal Springs Golf Club.

Evanson, 478 Valencia Drive, was pronounced dead at 1:24 p.m. after being taken to Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame.

A Hillsborough fire department resuscitator unit was called to the golf course to aid the stricken man but to no avail. Heart failure was the listed cause of death.

Outstanding D.C. Students to Be Feted Thursday

Haupf, F. de Larios and Charles Becker, and Joseph Lewkowitz.

"Although we often read of the high rate of juvenile delinquiency in the community and of 'hippies,' we seldom are told of the hard-working student. These awards presentations should make us all aware that these outstanding students are the rule — not the exception," Fontana said.

He said the Chamber wants citizens to realize the honest and sincere desire of local students to achieve high academic standards.

"These are the young men and women who will fill the needs of our community and our country in the years ahead," Fontana said.

The students to behonored were:

William Villalon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Villalon of 117 Bel Mar Avenue; Muriel Friedman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Friedman, of 82 North Mayfair Avenue; Virginia Giammona, daughter of Councilman and Mrs. Anthony Giammona of 159 Santa Paula Drive; Richard Thill, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thill, of 96 Park Manor Drive.

Janet Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson of 699 San Diego Avenue; Leila Reyes, 12 Iwo Jima Road, and Daniel Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Lee, 859 Templeton Street.

200 Protest Lomita Park School End

Sometimes shouting, more than 200 citizens attended the Millbrae School District trustees' meeting Monday night to ask that Lomita Park school be spared.

They promised to take the school board to court — the Supreme Court "if necessary," unless the trustees take steps to preserve the old building.

Trustees had voted two weeks ago to close the older portions of Lomita Park and Chadbourne schools because they do not meet California's anti-earthquake standards.

Early in the meeting, Atty. Rodney Robertson of Palo Alto, spoke for the "Committee for Lomita Park School."

He said there have been State Supreme Court rulings, within the past couple of years, which allows a school board's decisions to be appealed to the courts, in case of "abuse of discretion."

Robertson said the neighbors of Lomita Park consider the closing of that school an abuse of discretion, and that he agrees with them.

Trustees heard Robertson's statements and moved on to discuss the budget and teachers' salaries without commeting.

Two S.S.F. Youths Caught in Home

Two South San Francisco residents were arrested last Tuesday as they were in the process of burglarizing a San Mateo home, police said

Roger Lee Snyder, 22, 456 Miller Avenue, and Mark John Rozzi, 19, 717 Linden Avenue, were captured by police as they hid in a closet of the home of Claude A. Kehoe, 67, 2044 Alameda de las Pulgas, at about 1:55 p.m.

Kehoe was away from his home at the time of the burglary attempt. He is a credit manager for a firm in South San Francisco.

Entry to the house was apparently made through an unlocked rear bedroom window. One of the suspects, Snyder, was observed by San Mateo Officer Howard Darknell as he tried to exit the residence through the same rear window.

Darknell radioed for assistance. Several police units surrounded the area and the hunt began for the two suspects.

Sgts. Walter Otten and Herman Neuman entered the house to search for the pair and discovered them in the closet. According to the police report, there was no resistance on the part of the two suspects.

They were arrested, advised of their rights and taken to city jail where they were booked for burglary. Bail was set at $5,000 cash or $10,000 surety.

uele, chairman of the CTA Bay Section Personnel Standards and Ethics Commission.

"We shall not let our study process be used as a political football by responding to Mr. Noonan's news and reported television comments, other than to say his charges concerning our purposes, study and reports are entirely false," Emanuele said.

He said study processes of the CTA are not a procedure used to affect elections, but rather to solve district problems.

"The Bay Section Personnel Standards and Ethics Commission conducted a study of Jefferson Elementary School District problems at the request of the local teachers' association, and with the concurrence of the district principals' association and interested citizens," Emanuele said.

In an apparent slap at Noonan for releasing his comments to news media immediately prior to the school district elections, Emanuele noted: "I would remind Mr. Noonan that the CTA report of the study was not released until after the county-city elections last November involving some Jefferson Elementary School trustees."

D.C. Man Is Injured In 4-Car Pile-up

A Daly City man was injured Saturday afternoon in a four-car pile-up on El Camino Real in South San Francisco.

Claude Raymond Blair, 172 Templeton Drive, is listed in satisfactory condition at Peninsula Hospital, where he was taken for treatment of a possible head injury.

Police said the wreck occurred about 3:20 p.m. Saturday when Blair's vehicle struck the rear of a car attempting to turn left off El Camino Real onto Pondersoa Court.

The stopped car, driven by George J. Kaminski, 154 Knoll Circle, South San Francisco, was knocked across the center line and struck two other vehicles before coming to rest in the opposite lane.

Drivers of the other two vehicles were Sharon Ann Annuzzi, 273 Eighty-eighth Street, Daly City, and Joan S. Wray, 116 Duval Drive, South San Francisco.

Car Smashes Into Home, Rider Hurt, Driver Held

A 46-year-old Daly City man was arrested Saturday and charged with drunk driving after his truck smashed into a parked car and careened into a home on Hillside Boulevard.

A passenger, Edward Rodrigues of San Francisco, was injured in the accident, police said.

According to authorities, William P. Robles of 831 Lausanne Drive was going south on Hillside Boulevard when he ran into a car owned by Julio J. Brandolino, parked in front of 310 Hillside.

The small truck careened off Brandolino's car and into the home of Raymond J. Giordani, before completely stopping.

No one in the home was injured.

A spokesman at Mary's Help Hospital said Rodrigues suffered multiple lacerations of the face and was in satisfactory condition.

$700 Jewelry Stolen From A Policeman

Jewelry valued at more than $700 was taken from the South San Francisco apartment of a San Bruno policeman Saturday, officers reported.

The Miller Avenue apartment of Joseph B. Kosida was broken into between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Saturday while occupants were away.

Police said two rings and several other pieces of jewelry were taken.

Entrance to the apartment was gained through forcing a rear kitchen window.

Time Again For Madness

Once again spring has managed to push its way through the dismalness of winter, heralding the appearance of America's perennial madness, baseball. Almost before plants begin to bud in many areas, the sounds of a ball and bat can be heard to alert the country that its favorite schizophreniaishere again.

What strange influence attacks the human race at this time each year and causes so many of its members to flip their lids is a question that has stumped many good psychiatrists. But it reoccurs every year, always bringing more victims under its spell.

More amazing is the manner in which the nation manages to remain solvent while this distraction is taking place. No time study analyst or efficiency expert is ever known to have kept tab on the time lost by industry and government because of baseball, but if one did he would probably conclude that everyone must be going bankrupt.

Baseball has come a long way since its inception 128 years ago and today deserves to be ranked with big business. Not that there is disgrace in a sport enjoying financial success. The fact that the players' livelihoods depend upon their performances helps enliven the game.

LONESOME MAYOR LYCETT—Anxiously awaiting the arrival of his fellow councilmen at the new Daly City Civic Center council chambers is Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett. The five-member council and city staff are scheduled to hold their next regular meeting in the ultra-modern chambers on April 24. Last week's council session ended on a nostalgic note as Councilman Frank Pacelli reminisced about "the good old days" and some of the meetings held inside the 75 Wellington Avenue structure.

Unique Explorer Troop on Coast

Will Thomas

ONE of the area's most unique Explorer Scout units has room for boys, 14 through 18 years of age.

Troop 126 of Pacifica, which Pacifica Police Chief Neil Tremaine formed years back, is a unit catering to youngsters who have, as Sgt. Ray Karczewski puts it, "a clean record and an interest in law enforcement."

Karczewski (you pronounce it, I can hardly spell it twice in a row), the troop leader, points out that the lads who qualify — oh yes, there's background screening before the boys get into this unusual unit — go through a police training program designed especially for the scouts, ride patrol with the regular policemen and act as clerks.

The troop meets twice monthly — the second and fourth Thursdays at the Sharp Park Rifle Range.

Applications may be obtained at the police department.

STRANGE THOUGHT — Somewhere we heard the Vietnam peace rally in S.F., was labeled "a success" . . . yet, the war continues despite it!

Post-Script

Those Marchers Too Peaceful?

Frank LaPierre

SIGN OF THE TIMES — Those "peace marchers" strolling through San Bruno, Daly City, et al, towards Kezar Stadium in San Francisco weren't newsworthy enough for us — they were just too peaceful! One thing is for certain, tht dispute is still on in Vietnam and most of those marching were right around the proper age bracket. We wonder if that had anything to do with it.

☆ ☆ ☆

YOU HEARD IT FIRST — A 190 seat convention type restaurant will soon be built atop Westlake Joes in Daly City. The restaurant will be a welcome addition to the presently strained facilities hereabouts. Seems if more than 50 people get together they have to either go to San Francisco (yes, Virginia, the Olympic Country Club IS in San Francisco) or reserve a high school gym. And the latter isn't available to everybody.

☆ ☆ ☆

MAYOR BUD LYCETT will soon move his offices to the new civic center on Sullivan Avenue along with most of the city staff. And the good mayor has announced 25 girls from Jefferson and Westmoor high schools will be on hand during next month's dedication ceremonies to guide visitors around (another guided tour??).

☆ ☆ ☆

WELCOME COLMA — After many years of calling itself the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, Colma has finally joined the group. The announcement came during a chamber Board of Directors meet last week.

☆ ☆ ☆

D.C. GARBAGE PROBLEMS?? — Contrary to a published report concerning Daly City's contribution towards polluting The Bay from a landfill garbage dump at Mussel Rock, that city has taken positive steps to correct any such deficiencies, Mayor Bernard Lycett and city manager Edward Frank said this week. The report listed three areas responsible for the pollution: Daly City, Bolinas P.U.C., and San Francisco. "A few years ago they (the Regional Water Quality Control Board) might have been correct regarding the spoiling of coastside shoreline with refuse, but everything has been corrected. If anyone's polluting the water, it's San Francisco who discharges treated waste from 108,000 persons daily into the ocean," Lycett said.

☆ ☆ ☆

ALTHOUGH D.C. POLICE are among the best paid and receive what has been described as "excellent fringe benefits" the department is still undermanned: Three sergeants and four officers. The shortage is not unusual, according to city hall sources. What makes getting attracting new officers difficult, the sources say, is the stiff requirements (two years college for instance) and the competition from nearby cities — all trying to attract prospects for their own departments.

☆ ☆ ☆

SPORTS UNLIMITED — The dynamic five bowling team sponsored by The Post and captained by (you guessed it) yours Truly, rolled their way to a 1-3 victory against the (lucky) Bank of America keglers (how's THAT for bowling talk) last week. You read it correctly: 1-3. THEY beat us three games and WE downed them one. That makes the Fearless 5 Post team five games down (that's better than six).

Elmer Venturini revealed he knows other sports beside counting peoples' money when he rolled a 196 game on the Westlake Bowl lanes. Once they level up those alleys, watch our smoke.

And would you believe Westlake Bowl manager Jim Grealish (of the D.C. Personnel Board, of the U.S. Navy reserve, of the etc. etc. etc.) boasts a 145 average? How 'bout 155? Grealish claims he cannot take the game seriously "because everytime I go to throw the ball someone from the community, the Navy or the Home Office wants me on the phone."

The Marquee

Lester's Piano

Barbara Bladen

IT WAS MOST NATURAL for Edwin Lester to sit down at the piano and play three still untried songs from the new musical "Dumas and Son." It's his show and as general director for the Civic Light Opera he's very pleased with it and wanted to share it with his luncheon guests.

Even coming out of an unprofessional singer, "Young Man About Paris," and "Stay in My Arms Tonight," are lyrically and musically haunting. Based on the music of Camille Saint-Saens, who lived at the time of the Dumas pere et fils, it has been expensively mounted for a world premiere in Los Angeles after which it will open at the Curran on Sept. 19 and then proceed to Broadway. Lester tried the same thing with "Zenda" in 1963 and while that one was cut off shortly thereafter, "Dumas and Son" sounds to have superior music.

Robert Wright and George Forrest whose collaborations include "Song of Norway" and "Kismet" and whose music is borrowed totally from dead composers, had to spend $1000 alone for sheet music and recordings by Saint-Saens, who was a most prolific composer. None of the "Dumas" music will be familiar, however, except for the famous "Danse Macabre" which will be done comically.

"The show won't be operatic, as such," the enthusiastic producer advised from his Clift Hotel suite last week. "It started out as a play but while the role was conceived for a great actor, we couldn't find one who could sing. The we heard Inia TeWiata do 'Most Happy Fellow' in London and I knew I had my man."

UNKNOWN IN THIS COUNTRY, TeWiata is an operatic baritone from New Zealand with a reportedly fantastic voice. He's the son of a Maori chieftain and a Scot mother and he's tremendously proud of his Polynesian heritage, according to Lester. He'll play Dumas the father, who was a quadroon and wrote 500 published works including "The Count of Monte Cristo" and "The Three Musketeers.

"Dumas was a combination of genius and mountebank. Both father and his illegitimate son wrote for the French theater. The son never forgave him for not marrying his mother and that friction is the basis of the plot. Also the son, who wrote the famous 'Lady of the Camillias' was a moralist while his father was completely ammoral but a real showman," he added.

Missing from the musical score will be any strains of "Samson and Delilah", "Swan Lake." The composers selected 40 bits of melodies, morsels from which they could adapt a successfully. They finally chose 27 that should be only faintly familiar to music lovers.

OLIVER SMITH HAS DESIGNED the sets, circa 1847 with Freddy Wittop, whose credits include "Carnival", "The Great Waltz, and "Hello Dolly" is doing costumes. Constance Towers and Frank Poretta play the courtesan Marie Duplesis (third in rank to DuBarry and Madame Pompadour) and the Dumas son, respectively. Hermione Gingold plays the ex-actress confidanta of Marie. Edward Everett Horton is also deatured.

Lester's thoughts then turned to "Show Boat" which will close the season. He's secured Sandra O'Neill who was here at Circle Star Theater in the lead role of "Funny Girl"; Eddie Foy, Gayle Sherwood and Pat O'Brien in this revival.

"It is the most often requested of all revivals and we haven't done it in seven years. It's so loved because no other show has as many hit songs."

The season begins April 25 with "Walking Happy" and stars Anne Rogers and Norman Wisdom who brought the house down in the Broadway production. Also expected this year is the remarkable "Man of La Mancha" which I saw in New York and list it with "Fiddler on the Roof" as one of the most unforgettable musicals written for the American stage. It's thrilling audiences now in Los Angeles at the new Ahmanson Theater. Let me remind you again, that "Hello Dolly" is due with Ginger Rogers but it is not on the Civic Light Opera subscription series. Tickets will be sold separately for that.

Looking at Seven Joys of Reading

Samuel Chandler

As National Library Week-1967 reaches its mid-point, I am reminded of Mary W. Plummer's piece, "The Seven Joys of Reading."

Although the author recognizes there may be more than seven, "seventy times seven or more," for her there are seven that can be described.

The Joy of Familiarity — This is the pleasure a reader receives from returning again and again to a story that tells of a character who has become an old friend; or to a piece of poetry, or an essay or another type of book that has proved beneficial at some prior time and will appeal agann.

Number two is the Joy of Surprise, the relief one receives when the characters in a story overcome their troubles. Or when a reader finds a new treatise with a theory or a record of a discovery that solves an old or complex problem.

The joy of surprise comes from literary works that show that human nature has struggled with the very problems we know and found solutions.

THE THIRD Miss Plummer finds is the Joy of Sympathy. This is the pleasure of feeling the struggles and emotions of the lives of characters in stories or the central figures in biographies.

The fourth is the Joy of Appreciation, the gratification one feels in reading something that is well written.

Miss Plummer calls it the joy of finding in what one reads "refrains that seize us powerfully with some haunting quality and sing themselves in our ears all day, quick turns of speech that bring responsive smiles." This is the joy that come from experiencing the color and vividness, the humor and subtlety in a good piece of poetry or prose.

THE FIFTH joy is that of expansion of learning new facts and methods, of seeing the relationship of the things of the world and of life. It is the joy of knowing and of discovery.

It is the joy of a student who seeks for knowledge and finds it. It is a joy that is part of living for people with active minds.

Miss Plummer's sixth joy is somewhat surprising — The Joy of Shock.

She describes it as the pleasure that comes when a thought tingles the nerves and quickens the mind. It comes when an author makes the reader take sides on the issue he is discussing.

This is the experience of contemplating fearful things like bad dreams and dazzling hypotheses.

The final joy is called Revelation, because it produces for the reader a glimpse of things, as they are, as they have been, or as they might be.

Miss Plummer finds this joy so rare it may come but once or twice in a lifetime. But, when it does . . . it is an experience worth all the reading one has done.

THESE seven joys await the people who put into action the theme of National Library Week-1967 — "Explore Interspace — Read!"

THE ONCE PROUD U.S.S. Johnson — what's left of it—rests in pieces on Pacifica beach at Mori's Point. Crews have been working months to get the craft off its place of repose. This is the beach scene a while back just before rains started.

Federal Grader Of Meat a Specialist

Lorene Beasley

The Federal meat grader is a highly trained specialist. He grades only whole carcasses or wholesale cuts of beef. (The quality of meat is highly variabee and almost impossible to judge in small cuts.)

The official U.S. Department of Agriculture grades of beef offered to the consumer are Prime, Choice, Good, Standard, Commercial and Utility.

Federally graded meat can easily be identified by a purple, ribbon-like stamp made from vegetable coloring. Almost every cut from a U.S. graded carcass carries the shield-shaped stamp enclosing the letters USDA with the grade of beef.

USDA Grade Prime is the top grade of beef on the market. In some cases, "house grades" may be priced the same as Prime. Prime beef is produced from young, well-fed cattle. Liberal quantities of fat, termed marbling, intersperses the lean meat and contributes to juiciness and flavor.

USDA Choice is the most popular meat buy. It combines high quality beef with less fat than Prime. Tender and juicy roasts and steaks come from the loin and rib. Other cuts, such as round and chuck, are tender and have a good flavor.

The thrifty buyer chooses USDA Good. Cuts from this grade beef lack the juiciness of marbled meat but are tender. The high proportion of lean meat makes this grade the choice of the customer who wants a meat with an acceptable degree of quality.

USDA Standard is the choice of the buyer who desires a large proportion of lean meat. Properly cooked, this grade is relatively tender, mild in flavor but lacks the juiciness found in more marbled beef.

USDA Commercial beef comes from older cattle. It usually does not have the tenderness of the higher grades of beef but tasty and economical dishes can be made from it.

UTILITY beef is produced mostly from old cattle and is seldom sold as fresh beef. Cutter and canner grades of beef are rarely sold in retail stores. The beef is made into processed meat products.

Most retail stores sell the grades of beef which satisfy the majority of their customers Some stores sell both government graded and house-graded meats. The consumer should inspect the meat to determine which grade he is purchasing.

Spring Luncheon's Molded Salads

Nell Norton

Spring is here and I'm going to celebrate by telling you good cooks about some delicious molded salads that I've had the pleasure of sampling recently. A molded salad with its bright colors and interesting flavors is especially suited for a spring luncheon or buffet dinner.

The women of the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd in San Francisco recently had a spring luncheon. As I enjoyed the delicious food, pretty decorations and interesting speaker, I kept in mind my duty to you good cooks . . . I gathered some recipes.

This recipe for an eye appealing and taste appealing salad came to me from Mrs. Valda Schaefer who lives at 1434 Thirty-fourth Avenue in San Francisco. Valda gave me the recipe but many of the ladies of the church worked on the salads that were served that day.

This salad is appropriately named, "Spring Salad"

SPRING SALAD

2 pkgs. lime or lemon gelatin
3¾ cups hot water
2 Tablespoons vinegar
2 teaspoon grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Combine the two packages of gelatin with the three and three-fourths cup hot water, stir in the two tablespoons vinegar and two teaspoons grated onion, the one teaspoon salt and dash of pepper.

Place one cup of this mixture in the bottom of a large mold, chill until firm. Arrange on top, ONE-HALF CUP SLICED AND SCORED CUCUMBERS.

Reserve one and one-fourth cup jello mixture. To the remaining one and one-half cups add the following ingredients.

1 cup cottage cheese
¼ cup finely diced green pepper
¼ cup diced carrot
¼ cup diced cucumber

Combine the gelatin mixture and one cup cottage cheese, one-fourth cup diced green pepper, one-fourth cup diced carrot and one-forth cup diced cucumber.

Pour this mixture over the cucumber layers and allow to thicken. Lastly add the reserved one and one-fourth cup of clear gelatin.

Allow the mold to set firmly and then unmold on lettuce.

BEING such a fan of gelatin molds it's always a pleasure for me to find some new ones to share with you. At a buffet supper recently I was able to capture these delicious additions for my recipe files.

Mrs. Joan Luders who lives at 11 Weston Drive in Daly City gave me this very easy and tasty salad.

JOAN'S SALAD

1 pkg. lime gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 large package cream cheese
1 can crushed pineapple, No. 2 size

Combine one small package of lime gelatin and 1 cup of hot water. Break the large size package of cream cheese into small pieces and mix into the hot gelatin stirring to allow it to melt and blend into the mixture. Lastly, add the whole can of crushed pineapple, juice and all. Pour into a mold and chill until firm. Unmold onto lettuce.

★ ★ ★

THIS next salad is a delicious combination of gelatin, fruits and berries and the result of this blending is rich red molded salad.

Mrs. Anita Cecena who lives at 125 Glenwood Ave. in Daly City was kind enough to share this recipe with me and with you good cooks.

ANITA'S MOLDED SALAD

1 large package of strawberry and banana gelatin
3 cups water
1 package frozen strawberries
1 flat tin crushed pineapple
2 bananas, just ripe, no brown showing

Combine the large package of gelatin and two cups of hot water, stir until the gelatin is dissolved and then add one cup cold water. Next add the strawberries. (Anita says she leaves them out while she is mixing the gelatin, so they are beginning to defrost a bit.) and the flat tin of crushed pineapple, juice and all. Lastly, with a fork, break the two bananas into little pieces and mix into the gelatin mixture.

Pour all into a mold, the fruits will have a tendency to float to the top, but that makes for a prettier mold for the top will be a clear red and the fruits will be at the bottom when the salad is unmolded.

So there you are girls, choose any of these salads for your next luncheon and I'm sure you will be delighted with the results.

Japanese Azalea is Plant of the Week

Home and Garden

The Kurume hybrid azalea "Hinode-Girl" which Frederic P. Lee, author of The Azalea Book, has given the poetic English name of "Mist of the Rising Sun" is The Post Plant of the Week. This azalea is growing at the base of the Azumaya just inside the gate to San Mateo's beautiful Japanese garden.

The Azumaya and its surrounding plantings is a gift to the garden by the Garden Study Club of the Peninsula. The funds for the gift were a part of the money raised by the 1965 Christmas House Tour. A couple of months ago this club added another hundred dollars to the planting fund for the Azumaya. The selection of the plants for this key spot in the garden was left to Mr. Sadao Sugimoto, curator of the garden who is now known to hundreds of San Mateans as "Sugi."

Sugi chose Hinode-Giri because of several reasons: it was traditionally Japanese being used in the gardens of Japan for many years; it is one of the hardiest of the evergreen azaleas; it doesn't get too tall and it spreads out to cover a fairly large area of soil; and last but far from least it has excellent red, single flowers that are produced in profusion.

Lee speaks of the good qualities of 'Hinode-Giri' then says it is the commonest evergreen azalea and "much overused." He goes on to claim that the majority of the Kurumes have superior flowers and are just as vigorous. The Japanese gardeners are well aware of these "improved Kurumes," they see them in flower right beside the smaller flowered Hinode-Giri but the memory of beautiful plantings of this azalea influences their choice. We cannot blame them for we, too, saw this small red-flowered azalea used as a hillside ground cover when we visisted the Fukuoka prefecture, W. Kyushu, Japan. The kurume azalea is named for the city of Kurume, home of the Kurume Medical College in this prefecture.

Sugi told us that the soil was prepared by digging in a small amount of peat moss and a larger amount of chopped bark. The young plants were set on two-foot centers (two feet from the center of one plant to the center of another.) Although less than a year in the garden these young plants cover a good square foot of soil each. They will touch in another year and before a third year is over they will be dug up and replanted to avoid over-crowding.

This azalea roots readily from softwood cuttings. Sugi pinches these soft tips back to keep the plants compact and full of flowering sems. We watched him do this one day when we visited the garden and came home and pinched all of our potted azaleas. This spring those pinched plants had a solid covering of flowers even though some of them weren't kurumes.

The Kurume azalea was introduced in the United States at the 1915 Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco. A Japanese nurseryman, Kojiro Akashi of the city of Kurume, sent a small exhibit, a dozen varieties, 30 plants in all. He received a gold medal for the exhibit. Akashi told the interested horticulturists that the Kurukes originated a century before the Exposition and gave credit to Motozo Sakamoto, a plantsman who had raised and selected seedlings of azaleas gowing on sacred Mt. Kirishima. Akashi inherited the Sakamoto collection.

Bed Tax Share Voted for County

The City of Pacifica and the San Mateo County Fair and Convention Association have apparently ironed out their differences over us of a portion of the city's transient room tax for county-wide promotions.

Pacifica councilmen voted unanimously to apportion 25 per cent of the city's hotel-motel "bed tax" to the association, after Mayor Harland Minshew said the action now has his blessings "and those of our chamber of commerce."

Minshew said several weeks ago he opposed paying the funds into the county organization "because the county is trying to shake us down by withholding a $600 grant rightfully due our chamber of commerce."

This was apparently a misunderstanding, and city manager Bill Masonheimer and other city officials later worked out the tax agreement with county representatives.

Minshew said the arrangement approved Wednesday provides "a benefit ration favorable to the city," and the agreement will not be binding unless two-thirds of the cities in the county participate.

The agreement must also be renewed each year by the city to remain in effect.

Smoke-Filled Blaze Guts S.S.F. Home

What was described as "one of the most stubborn fires in years" gutted a South San Francisco home Friday afternoon.

The Larch Avenue blaze may have been accidently touched off by the 7-year-old son of Walter Vestnys while playing with matches in the basement of the home at 733 Larch Avenue about 2:30 p.m., firemen said.

Damage to the structure alone was set at more than $20,000 by fire officials.

Smoke and flames mushroomed hundreds of feet into the sky for almost an hour as some 21 firemen and two pumpers fought to bring the blaze under control.

"I've had some stubborn fires," Assistant Fire Chief Alwin Brauns said, "but this was about the most difficult fire I've fought in a long time."

Main reason for the difficulty, according to Brauns was the amount of smoke pouring from the home.

"We had to cut holes in the roof and even the sides of the structure in order to get at the fire," Brauns said.

Mrs. Vestnys, whose husband was in a hospital recovering from injuries received while working on a San Francisco construction project, fled the home with their two children without incident.

Cash Taken In Two S.S.F. Burglaries

A television, stereo, rifle, and $100 in cash were taken from an Alida Drive residence in South San Francisco sometime Thursday, police reported.

Officers said the James Conklin residence was broken into while the occupants were away, and cash and household items taken were valued at more than $800.

Entrance was gained through forcing a kitchen window.

Officers reported another burglary Thursday night at the Normand Hotel on Cypress Avenue.

Margaret Sahlberg, manager of the hotel, said a metal box containing $600 in cash was taken from her bedroom as she slept last night.

The box, which contained receipts from the hotel bar, was taken from a table at the foot of her bed.

Entrance to the room was gained through breaking a window, the manager said.

Birth Control Clinic Only for Married

The monthly health bulletin of the county Public Health Division issued today spelled out the department's policy on family planning and the operation of clinics in East Palo Alto, San Mateo, and South San Francisco.

The misunderstanding, it is explained, has arisen because the department has refused to give clinic appointments to unmarried teen-agers.

What to do about the unmarried teen-ager who thinks she needs birth control pills is the most controversial aspect of this type of program," states the bulletin. It points out, "Child psychiatrists tell us that sexual promiscuity in teen-agers is a symptom of maladjustment. There may be serious conflicts between child and parents and these children have not learned the self-discipline that they must learn if they are to survive in our competitve society. They do not fully comprehend the consequences of irresponsible sexual behavior — illegitimacy, venereal disease and difficulty later in establishing a satisfactory marital relationship and stable family life. These children need counseling, and we make an effort to see that some professional person talks to them about their problems. We do not have time or personnel for this counseling, however, at the family planning clinic.

"In numbers, the problem of the unwed girl who wants birth control services is a relatively small problem compared to the large numbers of married women who wish to plan their families and avoid the burden of unwanted babies. The county program is also operating on a limited budget; we therefore believe that the county program should be concentrated where the need is greatest: married women of limited financial means.

It is further pointed out that the state's administrative code now requires all local health departments in the state to have a family planning program in order to qualify for state aid.

The county began a family planning clinic in East Palo Alto in April, 1965, and others in San Mateo and South San Francisco in February, 1966. Attendance at the three clinics now averages about 200 visits a month.

"Eligibility . . . is limited to women who are married, engaged to be married or are mothers, and they should be unable to afford to go to a private physician. Referrals come from private physicians, public health nurses, social workers, and occasionally from the clergy and voluntary health organizations, such as the Planned Parenthood Association."

Friends Of Library Set Book Event

The Friends of the Daly City Library will hold a public book review at the Westlake Library, April 27, at 10 a.m.

Chairman for the event will be Mrs. Robert Roay.

The review is one of a series being offered to citizens of this area by the Friends, without charge.

The reviewer will be Bernard Golumb, assistant librarian in Hayward.

He will speak about current trends in reading, planning to discuss several currently-popular books and explain why he thinks they are being widely read.

His examples will include such recent books as "Death of a President" by William Manchester and other books about Robert Kennedy.

Golumb attended San Francisco elementary and high schools and subsequently earned his librarianship degree from the University of California at Berkeley in 1951.

He has worked in the Hayward Library System for 11 years.

Maury Wills: His Help to Pirates

Le Pacini

Last week we remarked that Maury Wills wouldn't help the Pirates as much as a lot of people figure he should, noting that he really didn't make that much difference to the Dodgers last year, even when he played, which turned out to be a rather sporadic proposition.

We didn't make that remark frivolously. Not that we haven't always been among the first to acknowledge Wills' past contributions to the Dodger offense.

But as we also often indicated, we felt that Wills was as psychologically disturbing to the opposition as he was physically, and we once even advocated — as a stop-gap solution — ignoring Wills on the bases, because he stole most of them not so much because of speed or even a superior baseball mentality, but simply by shaking people up. If you didn't watch him, he couldn't make you nervous.

He had been with a hitless team which ran a lot, and he was the best of their runners, so he had stolen an inordinate number of bases and built up a reputation for invincibility on the base paths which stood him in such good stead, even when he began slowing down, that many teams conceded the stolen base to him.

NOW, however, statisticians are beginning to catch up to Wills, and he may be blowing his cover. What they've done is discovered a Baltimore shortstop named Luis Aparicio, who may have been a better stealer than Wills all the time.

In 11 years in the majors, Aparicio has stolen 417 bases, and until two years ago had led the American League in stolen bases every year he had been in the league — which came to a record nine straight.

A great record, to be sure, you Wills fans are saying now. But Maury's played three less years than Aparicio and has already stolen 421, led the National League for six consecutive years, and, of course, his 109 in '62 broke Ty Cobb's immortal record of 96.

But take a closer look at those impressive records, fans. Last year, for instance, while Wills was stealing 38 he was also being nailed 24 times, a poor percentage of 61.3. Even Henry Aaron, the lugging Atlanta outfielder, fared better, by copping 21 of 24 for an 87.5.

In 1965, when he stole 53 bases, Wills was also caught stealing 31 times, tops in the majors in that category.

Aparicio has had a better base stealing percentage than Wills in seven of the eight years in whch they've played at the same time, and holds a lifetime edge over him of 79.9 to 75.8. Only in Maury's peak year when he stole that 104, did he have a better percentage than Aparicio, and that was fantastic — 88.9.

Add the fact that Aparicio never had a smart, self-sacrificing Jim Gilliam to hit behind him, and Wills doesn't look as impressive.

THIS isn't written to put Wills down. He has been and still is a great baserunner. But we simply wantd to point out that perhaps, with the added years, the banged-up legs, the psychological whammy slowly dissolving, and being in a slugging lineup where extra bases aren't that important, Wills might not be the dominant factor he was with the Dodgers.

We thought it might also be interesting to remind you that there have been other great modern baserunners and stealers, such as Aparicio, the old Washington club's George Case (who led the AL five straight times, six out of eight years, and averaged about 40 a season for 12 years), and even a guy named Willie Mays, who's averaged about 20 a season with great slugging teams and who has often been too busily engaged hittling long balls to worry about such things as stolen bases.

★ ★ ★

AS LONG as we have you in a statistical mood, try this on for size: Babe Ruth still has the best ratio of homers as against times at bat. He hit one every 11.8 times he went to the plate. Following are: Harmon Killebrew, 13.1; Ralph Kiner, 14.1; Mickey Mantle, 14.6; Ted Williams, 14.8; Willie Mays, 15; Jimmy Foxx, 15.2; Hank Greenberg, 15.7; Frank Robinson, 16; Lou Gehrig, 16.2.

★ ★ ★

PORTRAIT of a Great Athlete — Jackie Robinson, Baseball Hall of Fame; in college, also played football, twice led the nation in punt returns (averages of 20.1, 21), in junior year led the nation in rushing average, 12.2; made All-Coast twice; also played basketbal, led Pacific Coast Conference in scoring two years, made All-Coast two years; also ran a little track. Still holds the all-time PCC (since defunct) broad jump record, 25 feet.

★ ★ ★

RECENTLY, we did a piece on how Wilt Chamberlain's role as "playmaker" had been overplayed in relation to how many extra games he won for the 76'ers this year by feeding rather than shooting.

We explained how, in our opinion, it was more a gimmick to spread the wealth among teammates who otherwise might rebel over Wilt's hogging the glory, and, perhaps, most important, a device to draw more fans simply because hardly anybody enjoys viewing an invincible human.

A few days after our column appeared, a syndicated columnist, Sydney Harris, did a piece which expressed exactly what we meant in discussing why a lower scoring Wilt would draw more fans. It read (in part):

"Culbertson, the greatest bridge player of his time . . . recognized the public's delight at perceiving weakness in greatness. . . .

" 'Many bridge hands played by Culbertson have been published,' wrote Morehead (the late bridge writer), 'and most of them show him at a disadvantage. In this fact lies one of the reasons for is success at bridge. Other experts used to run to the newspapers with hands that played well. Culbertson reasoned that experts were supposed to play well, and that is was news only when they played badly.

" 'He would carry to the reporters . . . hands on which some palooka had made a monkey of him. As a result he got more attention than all the other experts put together . . .'

"CULBERTSON . . . understood the psychological paradox that admiting a weakness is one of the strongest things a man can do . . . in terms of winning the sumpathy of his audience.

"We can feel close only to those who share . . . our own human weaknesses. . . . One stupid play by a Culbertson makes the whole bridge world kin."

SSF Sets New Swim Records

South San Francisco High School set five school records in sweeping a three-division swim meet from El Camino High School yesterday. Ken Belli set two of the records in the varsity.

THE POST'S SPORTS

POOL is becoming a popular family activity in the North Peninsula area, and no family is closer to the trend than that of Stan Cleaner, co-owner of Town and Country Billiards in Daly City. His 6-year-old son, Mike, here demonstrates a difficult trick shot to some youthful spectators. Mike is already calling his shots with fair regularity. He played his first game six weeks ago.

Sloshy Win Over Aragon

In horse racing parlance, the Capuchino High School baseball team would be classified as excellent mudders.

And through you can't find the Mustang nine in the past performance charts of the Daily Racing Form, you can find them atop the Mid-Peninsula League baseball standings record.

Coach Rich Jeffries Steeds displayed their affinity towards sloppy going for the second straight time, as Cap shut-out Aragon, 3-0, in the only MPL baseball game played last week.

Cap earlier edged Mills, 1-0 on a sloppy field in the only game played in the MPL that day.

In last week's game, Rick Olivera and Roger Carmine teamed up to limit the Dons to just five hits. Olivera, who traveled the first five innings, was credited with the win. Losing hurler Gary Suppe, also pitched creditable ball, giving Cap only five hits.

The Mustangs took a 1-0 lead in the top of the third when John Bjorner rapped out a single with one out. Mike Costanzo then singled, moving Bjorner along to second. However, Mike Chiappari hit into a fielder's choice for the second out of the inning, with Bjorner being the victim at home plate. Costanzo then stole home for Cap's first run.

The visiting Mustangs picked up two insurance runs in the top of the seventh. Ray Pesche opened up the frame with a walk. After two were down, Carmine walked and Bjorner was hit by a pitched ball to load the bases. Costanzo then unloaded a double, which drove in Carmine and Clevenger.

Warriors Edge Half Moon Bay

As befits his name, Jim Evangelist proved to be the salvation of the South San Francisco High School baseball team last week in a North Peninsula League contest with Half Moon Bay.

Evangelist doubled in the bottom of the sixth inning to score the Warriors' winning run in a 7-6 triumph over the determined Coastside nine.

The win gave South San Francisco a 1-1 record going into their league battle at Westmoor.

Father Says Officer Saved Life of Son

A grateful South San Francisco man gave credit to a California Highway Partol officer today for saving the life of his 8-year-old son.

Patrolmen John W. Hughes and M. L. Crosley were writing out a ticket on Bayshore Freeway in San Mateo last night when a car pulled in behind the patrol car.

In the auto were A. C. Sinclair, a roofer of 154 Gardner Avenue, South San Francisco, and his foster son, Farris. The 8-year-old was unconscious and the father was holding a spoon on the boy's tongue to keep him from swallowing it.

Hughes noted that the pulse was extremely rapid and the boy was very feverish. He had stopped breathing.

The officer administered mouth-to-nose resuscitation and the boy started breathing again. Hughes wrapped the lad in his coat and the officers sped him to County General Hospital with red lights and siren.

Sinclair told the officers that Farris had pneumonia and had been treated at the hospital earlier. He had been home only about an hour when he went into convulsions. The father called an ambulance but decided not to wait. He carried the boy to his car and was on his way to the hospital when he saw the patrol car.

After further treatment at the hospital, Sinclair once again was allowed to take his son home. He reported today that the youngster, a third grader at Hillside School, was still very sick but seemed to be over the worst of it.

As for what Hughes did, Sinclair said:

"There's no doubt in my mind. He saved the boy's life. The child was completely out and the officer acted fast and brought him around. He saved his life."

Workshop On Job-Seeking

Bay Area employers are conducting workshops for students at Oceana High School to aid them in getting good jobs.

The series of 12 meetings is sponsored by the Business Education Department of OHS as an after-school activity on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The students are given job counselling and they get practice in completing job application forms, taking sample employment tests, and sitting for job interviews.

Speakers for the Job Clinic represent a cross section of business, industry, government, military, union organizations, and apprenticeship program.

Man Caught By Guard

An unemployed service station manager was apprehended Thursday night while attempting to break into a hardware store, police reported.

Officers said John Walter Fiori, 31, 435 Esplanade Avenue, was apprehended by Security Guard William Reagan about 10:30 p.m. as he attempted to enter the rear of Linda Mar Hardware store.

School Site Purchase Funds Given

A $264,600 grant for purchase of an elementary school site in the Fairmont Subdivision in Pacifica has been approved by the State Department of Finance, Laguna Salada School District officials said.

John Munt, district assistant superintendent for finances, said negotiations to purchase the 10-acre site will begin immediately.

Munt said the district applied for the grant, to be repayed from district property taxes, about two months ago.

The school site is owned by Henry Doelger Builders, Inc., and Suburban Realty Corp., developers of the subdivision.

School officials said there are no plans for immediate construction of the Fairmont school, but it will be built "when school population in the area warrants the facility."

The Laguna Salada District now operates 13 schools, and two more are under construction.

Boy Falls At School

A 14-year-old Colma boy was treated at Daly City's Mary's Help Hospital for possible head injuries suffered when he fell and struck his head while playing basketball in Daly City Thursday.

'Mysterious' Wreck At Devil's Slide

Pacifica firemen and California Highway Patrolmen are investigating circumstances of a mysterious "wreck" which occurred last Tuesday morning at Devil's Slide.

Firemen were summoned to the slide area about 9 a.m. yesterday when highway patrolmen spotted a car on the rocks 250 feet below Cabrillo Highway.

A rescue team climbed down to the car, an old model Buick, but could find no "victim."

Firemen Ken Donohue said the ignition key was in the wrecked vehicle, but was in the "off" position. Also, there were no skid marks on the pavement at the spot the car went off the road, just north of Saddle Rock.

A check of the car's registration revealed it belonged to Jesse A. Ramirez, a Madera man.

Pacifica Votes Curb On Unruly Teeners

Pacifica councilmen last Wednesday night adopted an ordinance aimed at curbing unruly teen-agers in the city's shopping center areas.

The ordinance, which designates "trespassing upon private property open to the public" a misdemeanor punishable by a fine and jail sentence, was taken under study last month at the request of merchants in the Linda Mar Shopping Center.

The measure will apply to persons "trespassing upon private property open to the public, and refusing to leave," Councilman James Fox said.

William Hammer, president of the Linda Mar Merchants' Association, told councilmen last month several teen-agers have been "harassing both customers and business people" at the shopping center.

"These kids habitually congest the parking lot, block entrances to business establishments and use abusive language. This activity is having a disastrous effect upon business," he said.

Councilmen said the new ordinance "is not designed to keep teen-agers out of the city's shopping centers, but only to control them and prevent them from loitering."

Nine Poverty War Projects To Go Ahead

Nine San Mateo County War on Poverty programs, including a new information and referral center for Daly City, were approved last week by the Human Resources Commission.

In taking the action, the commission restored $7,000 to the San Mateo Info Center which executive officer George T. Riley had recommended be deleted.

Under Riley's plan, the money was to have been used to help get the Daly City center started. Commissioner Edward Morgan, superintendent of the Jefferson High School District, asked if the restoration of the San Mateo money would jeopardize the Daly City project. Riley said he felt it more likely that the Office of Economic Opportunity, in the event there are insufficient funds for all programs, would slice a percentage from each project rather than eliminate one entirely.

The San Mateo center had requested a budget of $53,000, an increase of $2,000 over the present year. Riley recommended a $44,000 budget, stating that the program in San Mateo had not been effective. He speculated that the poverty situation in San Mateo is not as bad as had been thought.

Commissioner Mrs. Harryette Rucker, however, made a strong plea on behalf of the center. She said it had been in operation for only three months and had not been given a chance to prove itself. Mrs. Rucker declared that the poor of San Mateo do need the center.

"You're robbing the poor of San Mateo to feed the poor of Daly City," she asserted.

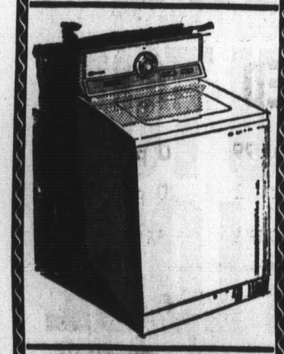

Backing her stand were telegrams from Andrew Field, president of the San Mateo Fair Housing Council, Mrs. Adolph M. Lapp, Jill Wakeman, chairman of the San Mateo FEPC Advisory Committee, and Helen W. Shands, chairman of the East San Mateo Community Action Board. All asked that the Info Center be refunded at the same level for anothr year.

The commission approved a $51,000 budget for the San Mateo facility and a $32,000 budget for the Daly Ciety center. Riley expressed doubt, however, that the entire amounts will be approved by OEO.

Also approved was a $1,285,748 budget for Opportunities Industrialization Center West, a Menlo Park job training and placement agency. OICW has been the subject of much criticism from some elements of the community but Riley said he thought the difficulties could be resolved. The commission took action to correct one of the problems, concerning the lack of local representation on the IOCW board of directors. It was agreed that five members of the community, and perhaps more later, will be elected to the board next month.

Other budgets approved last night: Redwood City Community Play Center Head Start, $40,000; San Mateo City School District Head Start, $41,000; legal services, $262,000; East Palo Alto Info Center, $65,000; Redwood City Info Center, $51,000; Human Resources Commission central staff, $90,000.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By Donald C. Waite

WATCH YOUR WALLS

During the last few years, American homemakers have been giving more attention to their walls than ever before. And those who don't—SHOULD.

Many homes and apartments are furnished attractively and elegantly but suffer from a decorating ailment known as "bareness of the walls."

This does not mean that walls should be cluttered, or that all bare wall spaces should be filled. It means that very often not as much time and thought has been given to decorating the walls as have been given to the rest of the room.

Needless to say, there are many ways to decorate walls. Wallpaper, pictures, wall accessories, wall fixtures, mirrors, and draperies used over bare wall areas are just a few of the ways.

The wall decor business is bigger than ever and the variety of items available for wall decoration is greater than ever. We invite you to browse around in our store for some ideas that you can use advantageously.

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center, are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience or call PL 6-7500.

The annual meeting of the Pacifica Auxiliary to the Family Service Agency Inc. April 18 at Nick's Rockaway, featured a report from Mary Ann Freiberg, ACSW, who is in charge of the Pacifica Family Service office.

The Pacifica Auxiliary is working with the office; supervising youngsters in the waiting room, collecting books and toys, and providing transportation when needed.

Mrs. Freiberg, acting as a member of the faculty of the University of California, has been supervising a second-year student from the School of Social Welfare.

Officers for 1967-1968 were installed.

The new officers are Mrs. Peter Hegedus, president; Mrs. R. Perrier, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Hunt, secretary; Mrs. Scott Moore, treasurer; Mrs. C. L. Jones, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. John McCoy, liaison to the Family Service Agency.

Mrs. Hegedus presented a gift and an original Connie card to Mrs. Paul McBride, the outgoing president. Both Mrs. Hegedus and Mrs. McBride were presented with the traditional Pacifica Fuschsia corsage.

The members were given posters advertising "The Family Service Goes to the Dogs" June 4 for display and distribution.

The dog show committee reported that 1500 entries have been mailed throughout Northern California, and that they have been receiving requests for more.

Mrs. C. L. Jones announced that the enlarged second edition of Family Fun Fare Recipes is available to members and the public.

P-TA Staff Is Seated

Members of the newly-elected executive board of the M. Pauline Brown P-TA were installed recently in the school's multi-use room.

Those present saw the transfer of the president's gavel from Mrs. Ellis Wierd to Mrs. Donald Teehan.

The library, containing Project Discovery materials, also will be open.

Thomas Edison has traditionally held a science fair in the multi-use room during Open House. This year, announced Mrs. Emile Tenud, president, there is going to be an art exhibit along with the science show, attempting to show the correlation of art and science.

Traffic Safety Checkup Aid Asked of Clubs

Service clubs of north San Mateo are being enlisted in a traffic safety checkup before the July 4 holiday.

A meeting of safety officials designated by their cities recently decided to invite representatives of Kiwanis. Lions and Rotary clubs to a session Thursday, April 27. The meeting then will be under chairmanship of Municipal Judge F. J. DeLarios, at his South San Francisco chambers.

The plan is to have club members make a checkup of safety essentials on cars whose drivers voluntarily present them at designated service stations. The club members will point out faulty headlights, taillights brake functioning, tires and other defects readily seen. No approval will be given, but the checkup will serve as a friendly reminder to have certain faults corrected, it was de-

From Sunny Italy, An Enjoyable Dish

You don't have to be of Italian descent to enjoy the robust full-flavored delight of Italian cuisine. People of all nationalities find it appealing.

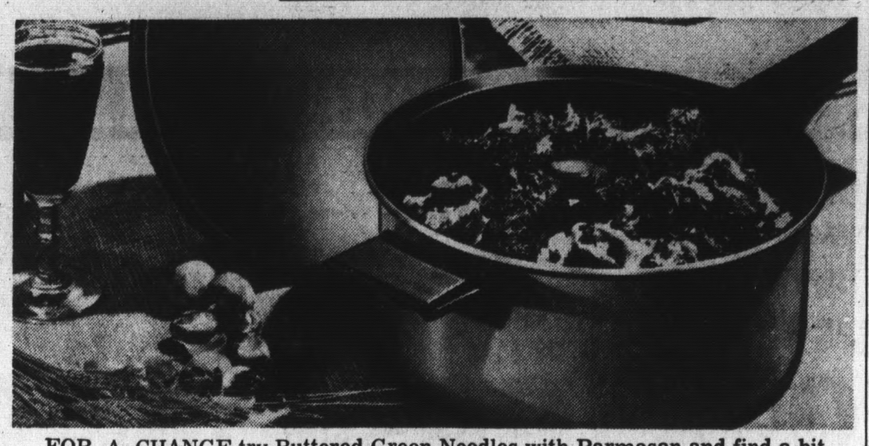

One need only observe the scores of Italian restaurants and "pizza parlors" in every American city to see the truth in that statement.

BUTTERED GREEN NOODLE WITH PARMESAN

2 (8 oz.) packages green noodles
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 clove garlic, slivered
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Cook 2 (8 oz.) packages green noodles according to label directions, adding 2 tablespoons salad oil and 1 clove garlic, slivered to the boiling water. Cook until just tender — approximately 12 minutes. Drain very well. Serve on large, shallow platter. Sprinkle ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese in a wide border around edge of noodles. Top with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. May be served with Italian sausage if desired. Serves:6

FOR A CHANGE try Buttered Green Noodles with Parmesan and find a bit of sunny Italy in your saucepan.

Serve Large Artichokes In Classic Italian Way

Baked Stuffed Artichokes

With scissor, cut points from leaves of 4 large artichokes. Parboil until almost tender. Combine ½ cup dry bread crumbs, 3 tablespoons olive oil, 1 tablespoon each chopped parsley and lemon juice and small clove garlic, crushed. Open out leaves and put small spoon of stuffing at the base of each leaf. Bake covered at 350 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve artichokes with lemon butter for dunking leaves when they are pulled from artichoke.

Antipasto Salad: Arrange on a platter on crisp lettuce any combination of the following: anchovies, sardines, slices of salami, cucumber, celery, tomato wedges, pickled beets, olives, and deviled eggs.

Recipes to Convey the Excitement of Peninsula Home Hospitality

Parties are for everyone, but especially for the "house-proud" young married people who are just discovering the excitement of at-home hospitality.

According to letters these new families go about most of their entertaining in an informal but well-organized manner.

The new hostess plans carefully and does her elementary chores in advance. Dinners are usually served buffet-style to accommodate more guests — and, to utilize wedding gifts and other new possessions that look so handsome on the buffet table.

Home-cooked party meals place a new responsibility on the young homemaker. She must establish her own style of serving, her "specialties of the house," and through them, her reputation as a good cook. She simplifies the task by concentrating on a few dishes she knows she can make and serve with success.

"Specialties of the house" are likely to be recipes with a clever twist which have proven successful.

These recipes are typical of the easy new style of cooking that young wives have adopted — good looking and good eating buffet dishes that please.

BAKED CHICKEN WITH CREAM OF SHRIMP SAUCE

4 pounds chicken parts
1-3 cup seasoned flour
1-3 cup butter or margarine
1 medium green pepper, cut into strips
1 medium onion, sliced
2 cans (10 ounces, each) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup
½ cup water
1 can (8 ounces) tomatoes, chopped
¼ teaspoon leaf thyme, crushed

Dust chicken with flour; brown well in butter. Arrange pieces skin side up in two baking dishes (8x12x2 inches). Cook green pepper and onion in drippings until tender. Pour off drippings. Add soup and water; heat until soup thaws. Add tomatoes and thyme; pour over chicken. Cover. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 45 minutes. Uncover; bake 15 minutes longer or until tender. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

BULLY-FOR-BEEF DILLY MEATBALLS

2 pounds ground beef
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
1-3 cup ketchup
2 teaspoons dried dill
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cans (10½ ounces, each) condensed beef broth
½ teaspoon celery salt
Dash pepper
Cooked noodles

Combine beef, crumbs, ketchup, dill, and salt. Shape into 32 meatballs. In skillet, brown meatballs in butter; pour off drippings. Add soup, celery, salt, and pepper. Cover; cook over low heat 20 minutes; stir often. Thicken gravy as desired; using a smooth paste made by blending ¼ cup water with 2 tablespoons flour. Serve over noodles. Makes 8 servings.

"HOUSE-PROUD" POTAGE

¼ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped cabbage
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed noodle and ground beef soup
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed vegetable beef soup
1½ soup cans water
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Shredded process cheese

Cook onion and cabbage in butter until tender. Add soups, water, and parsley. Heat; stir now and then. Garnish each serving with cheese. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

BUFFET CHOWDER

4 slices bacon
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup sliced mushrooms
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of celery soup
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed chicken vegetable soup
1½ soup cans water
1 cup cooked diced chicken
¼ cup cooked corn
¼ cup chopped canned tomatoes
⅛ teaspoon leaf thyme, crushed
Dash pepper

Cook bacon until crisp; remove and crumble. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons drippings. Add onion and mushrooms; cook until onion is tender. Add remaining ingredients. Heat; stir often. Garnish with bacon. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

TUNA BISCUIT ROLLS

¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cans (10½ ounces, each) condensed cream of mushroom soup
2 cans (7 ounces each) tuna, drained and flaked
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 cup cooked peas
4 cups packaged biscuit mix
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 1-3 cups milk
¼ cup chopped pimiento
½ cup milk

Cook onion in butter until tender. Add 2-3 cup soup, tuna, eggs, and peas. Combine biscuit mix, parsley, and 1 1-3 cups milk; follow package directions for rolled biscuits. Roll into two 8x12-inch rectangles. Spread tuna mixture over both rectangles to within 1 inch of outer edge. Roll each lengthwise; in jelly roll fashion, seal ends. Place seam side down on cookie sheet. Bake at 425 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes or until brown. Combine remaining soup, pimiento, and milk. Heat. Use as a sauce over slices of roll. Makes 8 servings.

Happiness Cake For Happy Home

Give the eye to cookbooks, old and new, and you'll come up with some surprising recipes.

You'll find out how to preserve children, bake a happiness cake, make a happy home and put together a daily dish no family can get enough of.

The following rule for Preserving Children is our adaptation of a contribution that has appeared many times over the years. Does anyone know where and when it was originally published?

PRESERVING CHILDREN

Half a dozen children
2 or 3 small dogs
1 large grassy field containing lots of pebbles and a brook
Flowers.
Sky
Sun

Thoroughly mix together the children and dogs; put them in the large grassy field, stirring continually. Pour a pinch of brook over the pebbles; sprinkle the field with flowers; spread over all a deep blue sky and bake in a hot sun. When children are brown, remove and cool in a bathtub.

We came across Happiness Cake in "The Pirates' House Cookbook," by Frances McGrath (Copyright 1964) — a collection of "house secrets" from The Pirates' House Restaurant in Savannah, Ga. Herb TTraub of that restaurant tells us that the recipe's source is unknown and that he "picked it up along the way."

HAPPINESS CAKE

1 cup of good thoughts
1 cup of kind deeds
1 cup of consideration for others
2 cups of sacrifice
2 cups of well-beaten faults
3 cups of forgiveness

Mix thoroughly. Add tears of joy, sorrow and sympathy. Flavor with love and kindly service. Fold in 4 cups of prayer and faith. Blend well. Fold into daily life. Bake well with the warmth of human kindness and serve with a smile any time. It will satisfy the hunger of starved souls.

Making a Happy Home is quoted in a cookbook of the 1900s and undoubtedly in others.

MAKING A HAPPY HOME

An ounce each, system, frugality and industry; one ounce each, gentleness, patience and forbearance; six ounces Paul's Christian charity, that covers a multitude of failures. These ingredients, thoroughly kneaded with the salt of good common sense, flavored with the graces of nature and art, music and flowers, will make a paradise of a desert, a palace of a hovel.

Another cookbook in our collection, "Favorite Recipes of Famous Women" (copyright 1925 by Harper & Brothers) yielded Dish of Days. This rule was contributed by Mrs. Robert E. Speer, who at the time of the book's publication was national president of the YWCA.

MUSHROOM GRAVY and chicken gravy as sauce bases, plus different cooking procedures, create two memorable spring lamb main courses.

2 Exciting Lamb Dinners to Serve

"In the spring a young lamb's fancy," the poet said . . . almost! Anyway, if your thoughts are lightly turning to a meal to celebrate the end of winter, what could be more appropriate than leg of spring lamb?

As a roast today and a skillet meal later in the week, lamb's a real money saver. And if you use a different canned gravy as a good companion on each occasion, you'll beguile your "customers" into believing they're having something brand new each time.

For the initial offering, garnish the lamb with slivers of garlic and bits of crushed dill. Roast the lamb to a turn and glaze with mint jelly. The sauce that goes with it is something special. It doesn't have to be stirred and simmered for long hours — that's already been done for you when you start with a can of savory mushroom gravy. The added cucumber and other seasonings lend a bit of magic and tantalizing taste that you'll want to try frequently.

The rest of the menu might include oven-browned potatoes, buttered peas, a colorful relish tray, and lemon sherbet with cup cakes.

LEG OF LAMB WITH CUCUMBER-DILL SAUCE

5 pound leg of lamb
Dried dill leaves
Slivers of garlic
Melted mint jelly
½ cup chopped cucumber
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ teaspoon dried dill leaves
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) mushroom gravy
2 tablespoons lamb drippings

Cut slits in lamb; insert dill and garlic. Roast at 325 degrees Farenheit for 2½ hours (30-35 minutes per pound). Brush with mint jelly last 10 minutes. In saucepan, cook cucumber, onion, and dill in butter until vegetables are tender. Add gravy and drippings Heat; stir now and then. Serve with lamb. Makes 4 servings. Enough left over meat for second meal.

For the second occasion, cut the remainder of the cooked lamb in cubes and add sliced zucchini and onion. Blend in a can of golden chicken gravy — an entirely new taste treat. It's all prepared in a jiffy.

Complete this menu with buttered carrots, packaged baking powder biscuits and jelly. For a superlative spring finale conclude with fresh stewed rhubarb and cookies.

LAMB ZUCCHINI TREAT

1½ cups cubed cooked lamb
2 cups sliced zucchini squash
1-3 cup sliced onion
1 medium clove garlic, minced
½ teaspoon crushed mint leaves
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10¾ ounces) chicken gravy

In skillet, brown lamb and cook zucchini, onion, garlic, and mint in butter until vegetables are tender. Stir in gravy. Heat; stir now and then. Makes 4 servings.

CRAB EGG FU YUNG is a cross between an omelet and a pancake. A delicious accompanying sauce makes the Fu Yung perfect to serve with rice.

Chinese Cuisine: A Way With Eggs

CHINESE CUISINE, like the French, has dozens and dozens of delectable and interesting ways of preparing eggs.

One of the best known Chinese dishes in this country is Egg Foo Yung—and as it is served here, it is a cross between an omelet and a pancake.

Restaurant cooks may fry the egg foo yung mixture in deep fat; usually home cooks like to fry it on a griddle, as directed in the following recipe.

This recipe is one that all our tasters applauded. Crabmeat added to both the egg mixture and the traditional accompanying sauce makes the dish one with plenty of substance.

CRAB EGG FOO YUNG

1 can (7½ ounces) king crab with tendons removed
6 large eggs
1 can (1 pound) bean sprouts, drained
½ cup finely chopped scallion (green onion)
½ teaspoon salt
Pinch of pepper
Crab Fu Yung Sauce (see recipe)
1 tablespoon sesame seeds, plain or toasted (if desired)

Into a strainer set over a measure, turn the crab to drain; reserve liquid (there will be about ¼ cup) to use in Crab Fu Yung Sauce. Chop crab into small pieces.

In a medium mixing bowl, beat the eggs until yolks and whites are combined. Stir in the chopped crab, bean sprouts, scallion, salt and pepper.

Preheat griddle to 325 degrees; grease lightly. Pour 1-3 cup portions of the egg mixture on griddle leaving plenty of space between each portion; distribute solids with flat of fork to outline of egg; dip egg mixture from bottom of bowl each time. Cook until lightly brown on underside and firm enough on top to turn—about 2 minutes; with pancake turner or large spatula, turn and brown other side. Drain on absorbent paper and roll loosely; place on hot heatproof platter and keep warm in a low oven until all are cooked. (Makes 10 to 12.)

To serve, spoon some of the Crab Fu Yung Sauce over the rolls and, if used, sprinkle with the sesame seeds; pass the rest of the crab Fu Yung Sauce. Accompany with hot cooked rice. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

CRAB FOO YUNG SAUCE

1 can (7½ ounces) king crab with tendons removed
Boiling water
1 chicken bouillon cube
¼ teaspoon sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon American-type soy sauce

Into the liquid drained from the crab used in the Crab Egg Fu Yung recipe, drain the liquid from the crab used in this sauce recipe; add enough boiling water to make 1 cup; add the bouillon cube and sugar and stir to dissolve.

Cut the crab into fairly large bite-size pieces.

In a 1-quart saucepan, stir together and cornstarch and soy sauce; slowly stir in the bouillon mixture, keeping smooth.

Cook and stir over moderately low heat until thick and clear. Add the cut-up crab and reheat, but do not boil. Use as directed in Crab Egg Fu Yung recipe.

Raisin Coffee Cake Can Be A Hearty, Tasty Affair

So many foreign cuisines have special coffee cakes. Cooks in the United States follow suit. One such American recipe is a hearty affair with an especially good filling concocted of raisins, walnuts, sugar, egg and butter. Raisins also go into the sturdy yeast-risen dough. If you try this coffee cake, you'll find it substantial enough to satisfy the hungriest taster — and the recipe makes two round loaves.

RAISIN COFFEECAKE

¾ cup milk
1-3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1-3 cup butter or margarine
¼ cup warm water
1 package active dry yeast
1 egg
4 cups (about) unsifted regular flour
½ cup chopped raisins
Raisin Nut Filling
Confectioners Sugar Frosting

Grease two 8-inch round layer-cake pans.

In a small saucepan over low heat, scald milk; off heat stir in sugar, salt and butter; cool to lukewarm.

Into large warm bowl, pour the warm water; stir in yeast until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, the egg and 2 cups of the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in the chopped raisins and enough additional flour to form a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic—about 8 to 10 minutes. Cover; let rise in warm draft-free place until doubled in bulk—about 1½ hours.

Punch down dough and turn out onto lightly floured surface. Roll out to a 25 by 14 inch rectangle. Cut dough in half lengthwise to make two pieces each 25 by 7 inches. Spread each piece with Raisin Nut Filling but not right up to sides—including cut edge. Starting from long sides roll each up as for jelly roll; pinch seams to seal. Coil each roll up in a snail shape and place, seam side down, in prepared pans. Press dough gently to flatten and fit pans. Cover; let rise in warm, draftfree place until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven 40 to 45 minutes or until well browned on top and underside. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks. While warm frost with Confectioners Sugar Frosting.

RAISIN NUT FILLING

1 cup finely chopped raisins
½ cup chopped raisins
1-3 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 egg
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened

Into a small mixing bowl, turn the walnuts, raisins, brown sugar, unbeaten egg and soft butter. With a spoon, stir together until thoroughly blended. Use as directed in Raisin Coffee cake recipe.

Open House, Fine Arts Show Slated At Westmoor

The Annual Fine Arts Festival is returning to Westmoor High School April 25 through 27.

Since it is held in conjunction with Open House, April 27, the parents will also be able to view the singers, dancers, musicians, and pieces of art presented to the students during lunch for the three days.

Five dancers, directed by Loretta Bemis, will perform in Room 51 during the three lunch periods on Tuesday. The Concert Band will be playing some numbers in the Band Room and the Little Theater will set the stage for skits and one-act plays, presented all three days.

Art rooms A, B, and D will have oil paintings, water colors, collages, sculpture, spots, and jewelry on display.

Demonstrations of pottery making and, perhaps, jewelry making, will be given in those rooms. Art room C will have refreshments. Tentatively, the spectrum show, the projection of psychedelic colors on the walls, will be showing its colors in Room 50 all three days.

On the second day Wednesday dancers will be replaced by the film, "Toot, Whistle, Plunk and Boom," a color cartoon by the late Walt Disney, about the beginning of music. The Stage Band will take over the Band Room and play some of their jazz numbers.

The sound of young voices as vocal soloists will take the stage on Thursday, the final day in Room 51, where they will be singing to records. Solos and ensembles, instrumental groups, playing some of their numbers which won them high honors at the competition in San Jose and Reno, will be in the Band Room.

Dancers, the spectrum show, the Stage Band, skits, and art will also entertain parents as they attend Open House on Thursday night. Art Room C will be converted into a type of cafe, where refreshments will be served. Entertainment by young vocal soloists provided.

"Mobile" is to be theme around which the art itself will be centered. The Art Club will construct mobiles out of a variety of objects and then possibly use machines to turn them and colored lights to brighten them. Any WHS student can submit anything he has made that he feels is art, as all parts of the Festival are presented by the students.

A five-man committee elected by the Art Club will judge, with the help of art teachers, which pieces of art will be displayed.

A VAST array of special projects and every day work will be on display for the annual open house.

In the shop area, Domnick Polillo will display the boys' wood projects.

Among the displays will be a solid walnut desk made by Kevin Cottrell, an eight drawer walnut chest by Al Glaser and gun cases, octagonal tables and commodes.

Also in the shop area will be a showcase of plastic objects from William Cornejo's plastics class.

In the display case will be acrylic chip and dip bowls, salt and pepper shakers, and Doug-Golub's kidney-shaped resin table with an agate slab top. Mr. Cornejo says about the plastics, "the end product of the class is the ability to make and understand plastics. The plastic articles themselves are the result of the product of the class."

Homemaking area will provide displays of the outfits made by Miss Margaret Becker's clothing class, ranging from the easiest skirts to the most complicated suits and coats. Also in this area will be cooking demonstrations showing the art of making cookies and delicious meats.

The homemaking department will provide the refreshments including such delicacies as nut and yeast breads and cookies, all prepared by the students.

Miss Evelyn Slater's English room will be decorated with vivid bulletin boards depicting the major gods and myths. Also, her classes will show their reports done on the political, cultuarl, and historical backgrounds of certain areas of America. The reports were based on novels such as "Gone With The Wind" for Georgia or "The Yearling" for Florida.

"Parents should see what we ordinarily do, not something spectacular that we have prepared for a special occasion," said Miss Hildegard Seidel, whose freshman geography class will display tee-dimensional maps and pictures, Japanese games, and research papers.

In the gymnasium area, Mrs. Barbara Lovinson will be having wrestling demonstrations along with alternating modern dances, modern jazz and Swedish Gymnastics.

The entire school will be decked out in finery to show interested parents and students this year's educational accomplishment.

Members of C. S. F. will act as ushers.

THE GIRL'S Glee Club headed by Howard Loeffler entertained at the senior citizens center recently.

The girls sang such selections as "Jacob's Ladder," "Do Re Mi," "Dear Heart" and "Hey Look Me Over."

Concerning such an outing as this (there have been many), the girls are not required to go for a class grade. Actually, comments one student, "It's kind of fun."

Those who went included Brenda Wells, Lin Siciliano, Pam Eagleton, Kathy Scanlon, Sue Lehre, Loretta Bemis, Jerry Lindsay, Jerrie Haught, Heidi Barker, Maureen Glass, Donna North, Kathy Grant, Sandy Tate, Barrie Barrigan, Julie SooHoo, Helen Lichtman, Kathy Sailor and Milene Thibedeaux.

WESTMOOR'S Industrial Arts Program has entered eight boys in four different categories to the First Annual Greater Bay Area Industrial Arts Exhibition, April 19 through 23, at the San Mateo Fair Grounds.

Open to students from the seventh to twelfth grade, the Exposition has received entries from the Oregon border to the Monterey Peninsula.

Book Fine Moratorium

For National Library Week, Daly City librarian Samuel Chandler has declared a moratorium on fines through April 30.

Chandler said during this period all books and other library, materials may be returned, without assessment of fines, comment or questions.

"Nearly everyone agrees the branches of the Daly City Public Library are friendly places to meet and exchange ideas."

This appraisal by a Daly City resident grows significent as National Library Week, 1967, reaches its half way point, Chandler said.

Built around the theme "Reading is what's happening," National Library Week is marked by displays and exhibits in all three branches.

Noteworthy among these is a collection of art work created by students from the Jefferson Elementary School District. While most of these pieces may be seen in the main reading room of the Westlake Library, representative pieces are found in the John D. Daly Library, at 6351 Mission Street and the Bayshore Library on Acacia Street, Chandler declared.

Of special interest, he said, is the Friends of the Library tour of the nationally famous lib. ries being created in the Thomas A. Edison and the George Washingtgn Elementary Schools. The tours are scheduled for 10 a.m. Thursday. Robert Mueller, director of instructional materials, is to be the host.

An exhibition of oil paintings by Janine Derdzinski is found in the coral room of the Westlake library. This is Mrs. Derdzinskis' second Daly City show. Her work has been seen in several one man shows in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Mrs. Derdzinski has studied at the California School of Fine Arts, and Feddens Art School. She has further studied with Thomas Leighton and Nat Levy.

National Library Week began April 15th with the Friends of the Library's annual book sale.

2 Hurt In D.C. Crash

Two persons were injured Saturday afternoon in an automobile accident at the intersection of Park Plaza Drive and Bellmoor in Daly City.

Michael Loughlin of San Francisco and Rodney Rafter, 930 Hillsdale, Daly City, were treated for lacerations at Mary's Help Hospital after the accident occurred at 2 p.m.

Loughlin was transferred to San Francisco General Hospital, and Rafter was later released, hospital spokesmen said.

Marijuana, Not Popcorn For Movies

A janitor at the Sea Vue Theater in Pacifica found more than just the litter of popcorn and candy wrappers when he cleaned up Sunday.

Laurence W. DePaula, 1008 Sylvan Drive, San Carlos, notified Pacifica police that while cleaning up the theater after Saturday night's showings he found a waxpaper bag filled with marijuana.

Portions of ground-up leaves and seeds were found in the bag, which had been wrapped further in a girl's scraf, police said.

Caravan Of Beauties Due

There will be a "caravan of beauties" next Saturday when 11 contestants in the Miss Pacifica Pageant and current Miss Pacifica, Candy Troy, parade through the city's shopping areas.

The girls will tour Fairmont, Linda Mar and other shopping areas to promote next month's beauty pageant in new convertibles provided by area automobile dealers.

The tour begins at 12:15 p.m. at Fairmont Shopping Center.

Mike Wyman is chairman of the tour committee.

Vacancies Told

U. S. Navy recruiter Richard D. Griffin of the Daly City recruiting office announced that immediate vacancies for officers' candidate school are available, with monthly classes to commence in June.

Cyclist Goes To Hospital Atfer Crash

Sixteen-year-old Joel F. Schlotz of 623 Edgemar Avenue, Pacifica, was in Mary's Help Hospital for treatment of a fractured right leg that he suffered after smashing into the rear-end of a car with his motorcycle Sunday.

Pacifica police said the youth was southbound on Oceana Boulevard on his cycle. He struck the rear-end of the vehicle and was thrown over the top of the car.

The car was driven by James Schweitzer, 16, of 300 Monterey Road, Pacifica. ....

The accident occurred about 75 feet south of the Oceana igh School parking lot entrance.

Pacifica Council Okehs Variance

Pacifica council has upheld a variance granted by the planning commission last month creating two "substandard lots" in the Pedro Point area.

Mrs. Catherine Bouly, 352 San Pedro Avenue, had appealed the planning commission decision to the council, and 43 other residents of the area filed letters of protest.

Planners granted the variance allowing Charles Halling to divide a parcel of land on San Pedro Terrace into two undersize building sites after it was noted the plot is registered as two lots in the county tax assessor's office.

Councilmen also pointed out city sewer lines at the site indicate two dwellings were expected to be built.

Mayor Harland Minshew said Halling purchased the property several years ago "with the understanding it could be divided into two building sites."

"The plot has been assessed as two building sites, and there are sewer facilities for two dwellings. I see no point in denying the man an opportunity to develop the site."

Several persons protested the council's action in upholding the variance, and one woman, Mrs. Howard Hoops, charged the planning commission's minutes on the original hearing were altered prior to being submitted to the council.

Planning Unit Is Studying Church Complex Permit

South San Francisco planning commissioners again continued public hearing on a use permit request for a parochial church-school complex in the Westborough Community last week.

City Planner Daniel Pass said councilmen are "still studying" the problem of adequate fire prevention and recreation facilities in the area, and a satisfactory agreement has not yet been reached with Caesar-Callan Homes Inc., developer of the subdivision.

However, City Attorney John Moonan said last week an agreement on the park and fire station sites "appears to be near," and the proposed Roman Catholic church-school permit application could be taken up in May.

Planning commissioners also continued Ted Connally's request for a permit to establish a shopping center in Westborough, pending consummation of the park and fire station agreement.

In other business Monday, a permit was conditionally granted to Henry Rogers for a utility-trailer and truck rental lot in the C-3 District on Mission Road.

A permit was also granted to Grainger Realty Corp. for construction of an electrical supply warehouse on San Mateo Avenue.

Wire Is Stolen

Theft of between 500 and 600 feet of copper wire from a construction site on Warwick Street, in the Serramonte tract of Daly City, was reported yesterday by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Meeting For Bethlehem's Youth Group

Nine young people from Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Hickey Boulevard and Beachview Avenue in Pacifica will attend a Youth Convention at Grace Lutheran Church in Palo Alto April 29 and 30.

Henry Whitacre, president of the Bethlehem Youth Group, said the convention will discuss the theme, Sexuality and Me, not in an attempt to shock or expose, but to provide a Christian context of acceptance, maturity and reverence in which competent resource people can speak to the questions young people are asking.

Resource people from the fields of medicine, family therapy, and the ministry will help to guide the discussion.

Among those attending from Bethlehem Lutheran Church are Mike Spengler, Lance Mrtin, Henry Whitacre, Sharon Pottinger, Debbie Pottinger, Dawn Reutzel, Donna Doan, Sandy Reutzel and Verlien Reutzel. Mr. Michael Mosness, Pacifica, and a member of the church, will accompany the young people as an adult sponsor.

Bethlehem Lutheran Church has youth groups for youth of all ages from 7th through 12 grades. The church office (359-4644) will supply information concerning their regular meetings at the church.

UFO Study For Westmoor Science Class

Plunging beyond the usual realm of Survey of Science classes, 12 Westmoor High students, under the supervision of science teacher, Mrs. Anne Maionchi, recently attended a lecture at Morrison Planetarium on unidentified flying objects.

On the April 1 expedition the students learned of what a possible unidentified flying object might look like. Actual photos of flying objects that people from various areas had claimed they saw, were shown to the students.

'Witnesses' To Attend Circuit Meet

1,500 Jehovah's witnesses from San Francisco and the peninsula will attend their semi-annual circuit assembly, May 12-14, in San Francisco.

Representing the Daly City congregation will be a group led by William Thompson.

Thompson said the weekend program will be presented Friday evening, all day Saturday, and Sunday morning at the Scottish Rite Temple on Sutter and Van Ness.

The principal session will be Sunday, at 3 p.m., at the Masonic Memorial Temple on Nob Hill.

"The reason for the different location for the Sunday public meeting," Thompson explained, "is for the greater seating capacity which we will need because of the special program hat will be presented." Technicolor film, "God Cannot Lie," will be featured.

$17,000,000 Airport Construction Pushed

A new system of financing $17,600,000 worth of United Air Lines expansion at San Francisco International Airport has offered the San Mateo County building industry a bright beacon of hope in an otherwise bleak landscape.

The expansion plans were first announced by United more than a year ago, and will later include hiring of an estimated 3,500 new aircraft maintenance employes.

San Francisco's Public Utilities Commission last week approved a system of financing United's expansion through a non-profit corporation set up five years ago.

The corporation has already been used to finance $5,800,000 worth of hangars and growth for Pan American Airways, and has $2,100,000 going into new hangars and headquarters for Pacific Air Lines.

United spokesman Marden Leaver said the approval would mean almost immediate action to start work on a $2,250,000 maintenance garage and office building, and a $2,250,000 cafeteria and office building.

"We would expect things to move rather quickly on these," said Leaver. "We are in a position out there now where we have to expand, and it has to begin this year."

The statement was welcomed by U. S. Les Simonds of the Building and Construction Trades Council, as a boon to out-of-work construction workers in San Mateo County.

"It will help, he said," hearing of the plans for $5,000,000 worth of construction this year.

"It will be a moral lift, as well as an actual lift, and help create an optimistic attitude."

Simonds explained that tight money had clamped the building trades down tighter and longer this year than usual, and that big projects of this kind will help get things rolling again.

George Hansen, airport general manager, said the building would be financed by the San Francisco International Airport Improvement Corporation, which would take over the city's lease of 73 acres to United, and charge the airline rental equal to payments on the bonds issued by the corporation to raise the expansion money.

Leaver said the $17,600,000 would include projects to be built over the next two or three years, such as a $900,000 jet engine testing cell.

A $5,500,000 maintenance base hanger for B-747 aircraft, and supersonic jets. With 747s coming into service later this year, that building must be hurried, he said.

Another $5,500,000 will be spent on a maintenance base building to replace existing facilities, planned for about 1969, and after 1970 some $1,200,000 will be spent on a larger jet engine test cell.

Metal Trades Firms Leave S.M. County

One-third of the metal trades industries of San Mateo County have left for other areas in the last five years, a manufacturer told a panel at a north county conference on current business climate last Wednesday.

Donald A. Wells, president of Wells Manufacturing Corp. of South San Francisco, made the charge, while Paul P. Shepherd, vice president of Cabot, Cabot and Forbes industrial developers of San Francisco, said that transportation and planning matters must progress much more than they have.

Wells said his firm "is one of the few manufacturing concerns left in San Mateo County," adding that industry has become based primarily on research and development which makes the area dependent on government contracts. The Vietnam war has pulled the economy and the local industry out of a slump, Wells said, but questioned what would happen when that conflict ends.

Shepherd said the main problems that have plagued industrial growth in South San Francisco for the past two years have been the need for highways in all directions of the compass and improved San Francisco International Airport ground services and access roads.

Last week's panel was titled "The Community Since We've Been Here" and is the first of three in the one-day conference. This was the first of four such conferences, with sessions in the south, central and coastside areas to be held soon.

Journalism Conference At Crestmoor

Two unique innovations highlighted the first annual Crestmoor High School Journalism Conference at Crestmoor High School, Saturday, April 15, between 8:45 a.m. and 12 noon, Linda Boscono, conference chairman, announced.

There was no guest speakers at this conference. Instead the students from the various schools attending the meeting participated in a series of discussion and workshop sessions. The topic was related to their publication and various fields of communication media.

The other distinct aspect of the conference included a display of textbooks, paperbacks, school publications, and other materials relating to the field of journalism and mass media. Many of the nation's leading publishing firms helped in setting up the feature of the program.

Pistol Stolen In Daly City

A 38-caliber Magnum gun with holster, knife, and a box of 38-caliber ammunition was stolen from the Michael Rocco home at 603 Skyline Drive, Daly City police report.

Entry was made through a sliding glass door in the master bedroom of the home, police said.

Entertainment and Dining
by LLOYD JOHNSON

Ronald Sutherland Doran's New Manager

RONALD SUTHERLAND, formerly of Stickeny's, San Mateo, is the new manager at Doran's in Belmont. Many changes are on the dining agenda here, including a new wine list; a dish called the "Turf and Surf" (Scampi and Steak), will be featured on the menu, and emphasis will be put on the restaurant's outstanding banquet facilities. Obviously a watcher, as well as a doer, Ronald is giving Chef Peter Selaya, a sheer genius in the kitchen, a free culinary hand . . . The big talk at Wayne Manor in Sunnyvale: The Seven Souls, who were recently featured at the Coconut Grove in Los Angeles. Look for Wayne Manor to soon make an announcement about a radical change in appearance and format . . . The Hotel Canterbury has been drawing large crowds with its terrific complete prime rib dinner and cart service, which makes a hit with out-of-town visitors.

☆ ☆ ☆

TWO OF THE BEST — Arpad D'Zurko and George Nyklizek, two of the Bay Area's most popular entertainers who are now appearing in the Villa Chartier's Fireside Room, ar soon to be featured in a magazine story. This talented duo, Arpad with his authentic Stradivarius violin, and George at the organ, entertain dinner guests and the late-night cocktail crowds at the Villa Chartier — and the hours slip away like minutes.

☆ ☆ ☆

FRANCIS PARDUE, a real 'pro' of the business handling details of weddings and banquets, makes all arrangements for the huge separate lower-floor banquet facilities in Stickney's of San Mateo. She also takes care of the room's decor, hors d'oeuvres, as well as directing the staff of servers . . . Wong's, San Bruno's newest dine out spot, excels not only in fine Chinese cuisine, but literally glows from the warm hospitality of owners Matthias Mak and Edmund Shiu. Although specializing in Oriental dishes, the menu also features a wide variety of American favorites that will tantalize your palate. . . . Toight's the night for my weekly prime rib dinner at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City. Get on the bandwaon and join the throngs of discriminating diners at this delightful restaurant for a whale of an evening. Before and after-dinner cocktails, plus a wide selection of fine wines, are also featured.

Francis Pardue

ELTON PARIS, who has entertained in many areas of the world, is a big draw at Finocchio's, where fans from Alaska, Arabia and even Australia drop in from time to time to renew acquaintances. Elton's zany comedy and droll humor builds to a climax, then leaves the audience "hanging on the ropes," so to speak. His combination of wacky dancing and straight-faced singing is one of the hits of the show . . . Jennie Rae, the statuesque MGM singing star now at the Brass Rail in Sunnyvale, has appeared professionally in tours of Canada, Japan, Australia, and has been featured in London. This versatile songstress adds her silky voice to a program which features Tara, the buxom lass who cavorts Topless with a couple of friendly boa constrictors . . . Bill Willoughby, the six-foot, eight-inch tall comedian at the Moulin Rouge, also does a fine job introducing all the topless dancers Dave Rapken has in his "never-stop" girlie show.

Elton Paris

CURRENTLY STARRED at the Sinaloa in San Francisco is handsome singer Juan Guerrero, "The Golden Voice of Mexico." Juan recently performed with Xavier Cugat at the Riverboat in the Empire State Building, New York, and the Intercontinental Hotel, San Salvador. In Mexico City, he was featured in seven movies, and recorded for Columbia Records. He's a talented Mexican who sings in half a dozen languages, including Yiddish (hear his beautiful Hava Negila) . . . On weekends, it would be difficult to find a livelier spot than the lounge of the New Southern Restaurant in South San Francisco. With Dave Little featured at the sensational Chamberlin organ, sing-a-long is a "way of life" here. You'll find that "Southern style" hospitality prevails, and that owners Reno and Julio Donati are among the most gregarious restaurateurs in the business.

Juan Guerrero

LEW AND EDITH LEHR had a busy night, last Tuesday, greeting many friends and long-term customers of their steak house in San Francisco's marina on the ninth anniversary of Lew Lehr's. From this corner, congratulations to two extremely nice people — and friends . . . According to Duane Eckert, last Friday evening was one of the best ever for the Cap'ns Cabin on South B Street. The lounge was jammed with people who were on deck to see and hear singing sensation Frank Adams—and he didn't disappoint them . . . In case there are those who don't know that Dorothy and Bob Masuda of the Fuji Sukiyaki restaurant are not open on Tuesday or Wednesday to serve their delicious Japanese food, let this be a reminder. However, the restaurant is open Thursday through Monday featuring home-cooked Japanese dishes like you've never tasted. . . . Ron Giannotti, the Surf House "squire," was out of town during your Bright Lighter's Wednedsay visit here. Wonder if he was relaxing up Las Vegas way.

Galli Produce Party "Produces" Success

Have received many invitations to restaurant and nitery openings, but the other afternoon when Manuel "Cass" Casagrande, co-owner of the successful Galli Produce Company, phoned to invite me to "come on down" and join the celebration, I was a little "shook up" with curiosity.

Thinking that may be they had discovered a new potato or crossed a carrot with a cabbage, I wanted to be a first in the know. Well, it proved to be an hors d'oeuvre and cocktail spread that would do honor to any big name hotel. Executive chefs and V.I.P.'s of many walks of life were circulating through the huge crowd. The occasion? The completion of a new addition to their building. Manuel escorted Yours Truly through the Galli Produce Company, which is certainly a far cry from the building of days gone by.

If you purchase your produce from Galli, you can be "Galli-Well Sure" it's the best. Sincere thanks to Gloria and Manuel Casagrande, Theresa and James L. Giovannetti, and Bonnie and Jim G. Giovannetti for inviting me to the reception. Incidentally, they happen to be the owners who see that Galli "produces."

Manor Restaurant Serving Cocktails

Prime Rib and Veal Scaloppini are just two "specialties of the house" at the Manor restaurant and cocktail lounge, adjacent to the Hyatt Theater in Burlingame. Manager-co-owner "Lucky Cosenza and his charming wife, Joyce, created a dining out haven for people on the go. The cozy cocktail lounge, which has only been open for a couple of months, already rates as a favorite after-work stop for office workers.

Black Angus Prices Are Budget Savers

During a recent Tuesday luncheon at the Black Angus Chuck Wagon, Manager-co-owner Carlo Fasolo informed me that last weekend was the biggest in the restaurant's short history. Folks he hasn't seen in months were congratulating Executive Chef James Pearce on his delicate flavoring of the countless luncheon and dinner items on display at the steam table. The "special" get acquainted prices of luncheon, 99 cents; dinner, $1.49 are far cheaper than dining at home.

El Rancho Offers "One-Stop" Night Out

Patrons of the El Rancho restaurant in Millbrae are in for a complete "one stop" night out without having to cruise around on the freeways. Superb Continental cuisine, organbar entertainment, and cocktails in the Mermaid Room are all in the "standard" package at the El Rancho. As an added attraction, you may get a chance to catch efficacious co-owner Rudy Ish relaxing in the lounge and amusing steady patrons with his razor-sharp wit.

Hi-Fi Room "Swings In High Gear"

The great "rock" sounds emanating from the popular Hi-Fi Room South belong to Ray Neveraz and The Dots, who come directly from Rocky's in Redwood City. This group's wild dance music is proving a smash hit with the swingers on the Peninsula. Live entertainment, and the Tuesday and Thursday night "All you can eat" action indicate things to come from Owners Joe Borges and Ben Muniz.

☆

Vince's Italian seafood restaurant and cocktail lounge is the Peninsula's answer to Fisherman's Wharf. You'll even find many of San Francisco's and the East Bay's restaurant and clubowners gathered here for small talk, dining and sipping. "Bimbo" Giuntoli, Bimbo's 365 theater restaurant boss, and Franciscan restaurant Midas, George Burger, are real 'steadies'. Before bringing his restaurant know-how to San Mateo, Vince Licata's family operated a thriving business in San Francisco.

NICK FINOCCHIO
New Tivoli

New Tivoli Is Now Open

Announcement: Nick Finocchio's New Tivoli restaurant on Grant Avenue, San Francisco, is once again open and serving the authentic Italian food that has made it famous for over fifty years. Due to a recent fire, the New Tivoli was closed. But a program of renovation was put into immediate action and everything is now in ship shape order for your dining pleasure. And that includes their famous Petit Fours that are served only on the weekends — with your dinner or packaged for take out. This should make Joe Cohen, the Bay Meadows Race Track boss, happy — it's his favorite dessert treat.

☆

Noticed in McCords Daily Notification sheet that a Pet Shop in Santa Clara had an application for an 'on sale' beer license. This could result in a new line of entertainment—and in this day and age, anything can happen, and usually does.

Fabbro's Favorite With Giants Fans

Everyone knows that sport fans are plentiful on the Peninsula, and it's easy to explain why they all seem to congregate at Fabbro's in Redwood City. Whether you're talking horses with bartender Tommy Phipps or pondering the Giants' pennant chances with Owner Frank Fabbro, you're sure to be joined by other "experts" on the subject. Also, many of the Bay Area's professional sports stars make Fabbro's their luncheon and dinner "headquarters."

Upper Level Rates Many Steak Raves

There's a new "hot" restaurant on the Peninsula which has caught on the way it should since its opening last weekend. And I'm speaking of the Villa Hotel's Upper Level "Just For Steaks" fireplace dining room. Many raves of satisfaction have already reached this desk. The Upper Level is just what was needed in this thriving Peninsula restaurant area — and you steak fanciers will be delighted with the cuisine. The Upper Level is open from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. daily, except Sunday and Monday. Plenty of free parking space adjacent to the Villa Hotel.

MISS JUSTIN E. WILLIAMS

Director Of County YW To Confab

Director Justine Williams will represent the San Mateo YWCA at the 24th national YWCA convention in Boston, April 24-29.

A native of Minnesota and a graduate in the field of recreation supervision, music and physical education from the University of Minnesota, Miss Williams personal interests encompass people, music, sports, reading and a host of other activities. She is a frequent hostess to friends from overseas.

Experienced in Red Cross, USO and YWCA work, she has also worked as an instructor for Army Special Services. Her extensive experience has enabled her to work in many cities of the United States as well as England, France, Germany and Japan. Before coming to the San Mateo YWCA Miss Williams was a Y executive on the island of Kauai in Hawaii.

The national YWCA convention is held every three years and total program is evaluated and the organization's major emphasis is determined. Recommendations and members of the national board work with local associations at regional and neighborhood meetings where the needs and concerns of each member are discussed.

Mrs. Arthur St. Peter, of Daly City, has joined Miss Williams at these pre-convention sessions.

Local programs will continue to underline the multiple role of today's woman, homemaker, mother, often breadwinner, in our changing society, according to Miss Williams.

The YWCA functions through diversified and sustained programs for pre-school, youth and adults as well as action in problem and emergency situations.

Daly City Crash–Two Men Injured

A San Francisco man was in satisfactory condition today at Mary's Help Hospital with multiple lacerations and possible internal injuries suffered in a car accident in Daly City last night.

A passenger in the car escaped with minor injuries, police said.

Hugh L'Esperence, 3926 Sacramento Street, San Francisco, received lacerations on both knees, elbows and possibe internal injuries, while Robert Miller of 151 Eastmoor Avenue, Daly City, was treated for cuts and bruises.

The accident, which occurred shortly after 9:30 p.m. on the corner of Sullivan and Eastmoor avenues, was still under investigation by police today.

8 Jailed In 100 Burglary Tries in Area

Eight young men were arrested in San Francisco's tenderloin last week for committing more than 100 daytime burglaries on the Peninsula within e last co ple of months.

One of the eight was Joseph H. Gruenberg, 19, formerly of San Carlos and South San Francisco, who is on probation for contributing to the delinquency of two of his minor brothers by aiding them in apartment house burglaries in Burlingame two years ago.

Another, Michael Metro, 23, is from Daly City, the remainder are residents of San Francisco tenderloin hotels. One of the eight was charged with possession of marijuana.

Police from San Mateo, Burlingame, San Bruno, and South San Francisco were assisted by San Francisco officers in netting the young men as they unloaded an $834 stereo set stolen in South San Francisco just before 2 p.m. yesterday.

The eight were booked in San Francisco on charges of suspicion of burglary, posses ng stolen goods, and conspiracy, reports Burlingame Sgt. Gerry Nordstrom.

After obtaining search warrants and checking the gang's hotel rooms, and determining the source of several other items of stolen property, decisions will be made on which department will prosecute which of the suspects on which charges, Nordstrom said. One of the gang is reportedly wanted in Marin County, where there is a warrant for his arrest on a burglary charge.

Sgt. Nordstrom credited San Mateo's Detective Sgt. John Cameron with a major part of the tracking down. At the arrest, they were joined by San Bruno's Detective Edward Gilmore, South San Francisco's Detective Jack Rhodes, and San Francisco Inspectors Jerry Evans and Dave Christensen.

The break in the long series of thefts, however, began when Burlingame Police Technician Alfred Palmer came up with palm prints from a Sunday night burglary at 1404 Floribunda Avenue, and fingerprints from a Tuesday night burglary of another apartment at the same address.

With the prints as evidence, Sgt. Nordstrom got a warrant for Gruenberg's arrest, and began tracking him down. With Sgt. Cameron, he trailed the former Peninsula youth to the Tenderloin, and located the gang.

Yesterday, watching part of the group return to a parking lot in a sedan, the officers noted it carried the seven-foot-long stereo console and a rifle in a sheath in its trunk, and a television set inside the car.

Other members were spotted taking cameras and other small items from a Greyhound Bus depot storage locker, and then the gang met and began transferring the stereo from the car to a panel truck, said Sgt. Nordstrom.

Sgt. Cameron said this morning that San Mateo suspects the group of being responsible for "in excess of three" burglaries in his city.

"We can pin them down on three," explained Cameron, "and there is a good chance we can catch them on some more. But all the rest must be thoroughly checked out."

Cameron said he had eight pawn tickets and other evidence which linked the group to the San Mateo apartment burglaries.

He explained that the group's method of operation was similar to a number of thieves' rings that operate in this area.

South San Francisco's Rhodes said the group apparently had committed 35 burglaries in his city.

He said they gained entry by forcing screens to doors and windows of apartment house kitchens and bathrooms, after first ringing doorbells to learn if the occupants were home.

At times, he said, the gang would operate a drop-off and pickup system, leaving members at different locations and then driving back to collect them after they had time to gain entry.

Sgt. Nordstrom said the technique in Burlingame apparently was to telephone people who advertised stereo sets, or television sets, for sale, and ask when they could see the items. If the owner said not to come at a certain time that's when the burglars would call.

Ryan Drops Hospital Plan

Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan (D-S.S.F.), is withdrawing his proposal to use carefully selected prison inmates at state mental hospitals to aid psychiatric technicians and other professional personnel with heavy work. After meeting with representatives of state mental hospital employes, Assemblyman Ryan decided to drop the half-way house pilot project study.

"Representatives of the workers involved told me there was a high degree of confusion regarding my idea and the governor firing 3,700 employes," Assemblyman Ryan explained. "It was the furtherest thing from my mind that trusties replace mental hospital workers. Because of the misunderstanding and its consequences, I'm shelving the proposed study."

The South San Francisco Democrat had formulated this half-way house concept after four years of repeated visits to state mental hospitals and prison facilities in California. He has held discussions with the Department of Corrections and Mental Hygiene to formalize a small-scale experimental pilot project study.

"Although my idea is shelved," Assemblyman Ryan said, "something must be done to help these people. Many of the nurse's and psych tech's duties are being reduced to housekeeping chores, when their special skills should be conserved for patient care."

Citing an example of "a long way to go," Assemblyman Ryan said that at Sonoma State Mental Hospital five psychiatric technicians have to care for a ward of from 50 to 72 mentally and physically retarded patients. "These patients are totally unable to take care of their bodily functions," he said. "They must be bathed, fed and changed."

Westmoor To Put on Play For Patients

The Drama Department of Westmoor High School will present the "Wizard of Oz" for the patients of Skyline Terrace Convalescent Hospital on Thursday, April 20.

The school girls' glee club, under the leadership of H. Loeffler, music department head, entertained there lately.

Other groups who have also entertained are the music department of Holy Names School; the Misty Hill's Chapter of the Sweet Adeline Chorus; the Marsha Lind Dance Studio; the Chordsmen Band; violinist Mrs. Roma Olsen of San Bruno, and vocalists Mrs. Gloria Welch and Mrs. Aurelia Stoddard of Pacifica. Mrs. Nyquist is pianist for group singing.

This convalescent hospital is situated in a beautiful foothill area of Daly City, at 1498 Southgate. Its administrator is Miss Wilma Stisser; head nurse is Mrs. Chernock and recreation director, Mrs. John W. Nelson. It has been certified by Medicare. Its capacity is 50 patients.

Besides a formal weekly program, the patients here participate in weekly handicraft activities and games under the direction of a recreation worker. Volunteers of the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection, Mrs. Irene Fergusen and Mrs. Audrey Anderson; Mrs. Pat Duvall and Mrs. Marge Schwartz of Bethlehem Lutheran Church; Mrs. Dorothy La Chance and Mrs. Lois Kornahrens of Westlake Lutheran; Mrs. G. Gordon and Mrs. Ann Murphy of Holy Angels Catholic Church; and Mrs. Robin York, Westlake High student, assist in the teaching of crafts.

Carol Fox, Mrs. La Chance and Mrs. Irma Schultz of Westlake Lutheran Church assist with a monthly birthday party. Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls make tray favors and assist with programs.

In addition to the formal weekly programs there is a weekly church service under the direction of Rev. Clifford Droke, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, assisted by women of the various churches of the area.

Toys Blaze In Fireplace: Home Burns

A fire which apparently started from sparks from a fireplace caused extensive damage to the roof of a Maywood Drive residence in San Bruno Sunday afternoon.

Firemen said the blaze began at the Manuel Arceo residence, 2481 Maywood Drive, about 3:30 p.m. after several broken plastic toys were burned in the fireplace.

Damage to the roof and supporting wood frame was estimated at $1,800.

Twelve firemen and five trucks from Station 2 fought the fire. A spokesman said the blaze was extinguished within a few minutes, but firemen worked over two hours ripping off the roof and covering the damaged area with tarpaper.

One fireman, Marshall Peterson, received a minor hand injury while fighting the blaze, a department spokesman said.

El Camino Junior Prom Due Saturday

The junior class of El Camino High School will unveil its junior prom, "Enchanted Isle," on April 22.

The formal event will take place at Hillside Auditorium in South San Francisco. Music will be provided by "The Brothers Rivera," a popular teen band, that are well known for their versatility in music.

Atmosphere will be that of a South Sea Isle, with such items as real palm trees, various types of tropical flowers, waterfalls, and at the door a bridge that crosses a water and lily-filled pond making up the main decorations.

The featured event of the evening will be the crowning of the king and queen, who together will reign over the prom.

Bruce Burns, the junior class president, comments that, "This year's prom will be unique in many ways. The most noticeable of these being the decorations that we have been gathering from various nurseries in the area."

TAX EXEMPT STATUS: In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable under any Federal Income Tax laws, either by the terms of such laws or by ruling of a Federal Income Tax authority or official which is followed by the Internal Revenue Service or by the decision of any Federal Court, the successful bidder may at his option prior to the tender of said bonds by the Board of Supervisors, be relieved of his obligation under the contract to purchase the bonds and in such case the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the following firm, approving the validity of said bonds, will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge: ORRICK, DAHLQUIST, HERRINGTON & SUTCLIFFE, 405 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, California 94104. A copy of the legal opinion, certified by the official in whose office the original is filed will be printed on each bond without charge to the successful bidder.

TERMS OF SALE

HIGHEST BIDDER: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right in its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals; unless such time of award is waived by the successful bidder.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the day of sale, but not prior to the date of the bonds.

RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of SAN MATEO CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT of San Mateo County."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $10,000.00, drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said District from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the District on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the District. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said District, or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

Dated: APRIL 11, 1967.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

Small cavities in the teeth can be filled more easily and with less discomfort than large ones.

If decay is neglected it leads to infection and abscess formation. An infected tooth is a hazard to good health and often must be removed.

A tooth that has been lost should be replaced by an artificial one. If it is not, the other teeth will shift. This shifting may lead to more decay and to diseases of the gums.

Irregular placement of the teeth should be corrected for many reasons: To improve appearance, speech and the ability to chew food and to help prevent other dental diseases.

Regular dental treatment will help you to have teeth that are both healthy and attractive.

Have your dentist check for cavities and follow his recommendations if treatment is needed.

Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.
